—The trustees of the Southern Railroad advertise for proposals to make thirty miles of road-bed in Scott county, Kentucky.

—Ice was cut in Lake Erie, on Wednesday, opposite Buffalo, over a foot in thickness. Vessels are loading for upper lake ports.

—The Senate has confirmed the nomination of Henry C. Johnson as Commissioner of Customs, vice Wm. G. Haines, removed.

—The Baltimore & Ohio Railroad Company has declared a semi-annual dividend of five per cent. on the stock of the main line and the Washington branch.

—In the case before the jury at Meadville, Pa., the Titusville Courier against the Printers' Union, for conspiracy, a verdict was rendered in favor of the former.

—George Hewson, a fireman on the E. & C. Railroad, fell from a train near Evansville, yesterday, and was run over. Both legs and one arm were cut off, and the body cut in two at the waist.

—Two fishing boats capsized off Kenosha, Wis., on Wednesday. Four men were aboard. Each one was seen lashed to the boat. The others were lost. There was a terrible gale on the lake.

—A dispatch from Calcutta reports that five hundred natives have died from disease and starvation in Hatcoul. The mortality from the famine is sensibly abated by the relief measures of the Government.

—It is reported that already preparations are being made among the working men in New York for a strike in case the master mechanics persist in their determination to demand ten hours as a day's labor.

—Another murder and suicide occurred in San Francisco on Wednesday. A man named Macey shot another named Caldwell through the head. He then shot himself in the region of the heart. He cannot survive.

—Notice is given by the Light House Board that on and after Monday, June 1st, 1874, a permanent light will be exhibited from a tower erected on Spectacle Reef, Lake Huron, Mich., and the temporary light now exhibited will be discontinued.

—The French steamship Europe, which sunk in mid-ocean, was insured for $600,000 in London and Paris companies. The salvage crew of the National Line steamer state that the leak which caused the loss of the vessel was in the engine room.

—The New England Conference of the M. E. Church, in its seventy-fifth annual session, adopted a protest against the repeal or mutilation of the Massachusetts prohibitory law, and also against the enactment of a license law to sustain in anywise the traffic in intoxicating drinks.

—John A. McLean, proprietor of the Cincinnati Enquirer, was again on the witness stand on Wednesday, and again refused to answer the question as to who besides Scowden, the defendant on trial, charged with procuring a libellous publication in the Enquirer, gave him information on which to ground the article. He was sent to jail.

—The Dayton (Ohio) Prayer League met yesterday and considered the situation. A variety of opinions were expressed. One clergyman desired the women to venture on crusading again, to make a test question, but the women wisely concluded that it was right to obey the Mayor's proclamation, which had been issued by the unanimous request of the Police Commissioners, so the women remained in church at prayers.

—At Evansville, Indiana, on Wednesday morning, a fire broke out in a three story brick house while the inmates were all asleep. Mrs. Rother, a widow, and her son Louis, aged thirteen, were smothered to death. Charles Rother, aged eleven, jumped from the third story, and escaped with a bad cut on the hip. Another man jumped from the third story and was not badly hurt. The bodies of Mrs. Rother and her son were discovered after the fire was subdued.

—The House Committee on Patents has decided to report adversely on the bill proposing to appropriate $1,000,000, to be disbursed by a scientific commission to inventors of new and useful articles, machines, etc., during the next ten years. The Committee took adverse action on Representative Killinger's bill authorizing the Commissioner of Patents to extend for seven years any and all patents for which extensions may be asked, provided one hundred dollars be paid into the United States Treasury.

—The Secretary of the Interior has transmitted to the Senate an official letter from Superintendent Enoch Hoag, protesting in behalf of the Shawnee Indians of Kansas against the passage of the bill introduced in the House of Representatives by Mr. Cobb, providing for the sale of their lands, comprising some 33,000 acres, in Kansas, which have been already extensively occupied by tresspassing settlers. Mr. Hoag says these lands are worth fifteen dollars per acre, whereas the bill provides for their sale to settlers at five dollars.

—On Tuesday night, about dusk, the stage carrying the United States mail and eleven passengers, of whom three were ladies, was stopped about twenty-three miles from Austin, Texas, by three armed men, who cut the front horses out, took all the passengers' money and jewelry, broke open their trunks and gutted the mail bags, taking off one of them and two of the stage horses. Among the passengers were Bishop Gregg and Mr. Breckenridge, President of the National Bank of San Antonio, from whom they took one thousand dollars. They secured about $3,000 from the passengers. The stage was the regular four horse stage from San Antonio to Austin.

—For some time past the firm of Podesta & Co., of Memphis, have missed liquors and cigars, and suspicion was directed to John Gozzola, a former porter, who had recently set up a saloon near the Cotton Exchange. The firm had Officer Pride detailed, who for the past two nights was locked up in the store, armed with a double-barreled shot gun charged with buckshot. About seven o'clock last evening Pride heard the door unlocked, saw a man enter, take the key out and lock the door inside, and started towards the counting room. Pride called to him to throw his hands up and surrender, but he rushed at the officer, who emptied both barrels in his body, killing him instantly. On striking a light the body was found to be that of Gozzola.

"THE RIGHT MAN" AGAIN.

To the Editors of the Pittsburgh Gazette:

In my reply last week to the author of the article headed "The Wrong man," exposing the false statement of that article, I was not then prepared to expose the one contained in its closing paragraph. It is in the following words. "In this connection an instance of Government paying twice for the same service, has leaked out. When Stephen A. Hurlbut was Minister at Bogota, and returned home to run as Congressman from Illinois, which position he now holds, Wallace" (Rev. T. F. Wallace, Protestant Missionary in Bogota) "was Charge de Affairs in his absence, for which he drew pay, and Hurlbut also drew his salary for the same duty, until the appointment of Scruggs in April last." General Hurlbut's attention having been called to the article, of which the above extracts is the closing part, makes the following statement under date of Washington, D. C., March 27, 1874:

The article has crowded many blunders into a small compass. I left Bogota on 4th April 1872. My salary stopped under the law in thirty days thereafter. Mr. Wallace acted as Charge until Mr. Scruggs arrived, and was paid under the law for the duty done in the interim. Mr. Wallace never was in the Confederacy as chaplain, or in any other capacity, and is highly esteemed by all decent people in Bogota as at home in Pennsylvania.

The consulate is an old one, and was not created for him, but he was regularly appointed to fill a vacancy. The Consul receives no salary, and very little in the way of fees.

The foregoing statement of Gen. H. completes my vindication of Mr. Wallace and the exposure of the gross errors of the writer of the article I have received. VINDEX.

IT is said that favorable signs of a large deposit of iron ore have been discovered on the property of John Matthews, on the Pineville and Centerville turnpike, in Buckingham, Bucks county. The search for mineral wealth in the township is still going on with considerable vigor.

FIRST EDITION.

FORTY-THIRD CONGRESS.

FIRST SESSION.

The Bill for the Sale of the Pittsburgh Marine Hospital Passed by the House.

Speeches on the Bill for the Redistribution of the Currency.

WASHINGTON, April 8, 1874.

SENATE.

Memorials, Bills, etc.

Mr. OGLESBY presented a memorial of John Buson, asking for the appointment of a delegation composed in part of women to visit the Indian tribes and devise means to improve their condition. Referred.

Mr. SCOTT, from the Committee on Claims, reported favorably on the bill to refer the cotton claim of R. M. and Stephen A. Douglass to the Court of Claims. Placed on the calendar.

Mr. DAVIS called up the resolution introduced by him a few days ago calling upon the Secretary of the Treasury to report to the Senate the amount of defalcations of various disbursing officers of the Government, and it was referred.

Mr. ANTHONY called up the motion of the House to reconsider the vote by which the bill for the relief of the heirs of Asbury Dickens was passed yesterday, and it was discussed until the expiration of the morning hour, when it was laid over.

Bills on the Calendar.

The Senate resumed consideration of the bills on the calendar, as follows:

Mr. Howe's bill providing for the assignment of Judges in territories. Recommitted.

The Senate bill to provide for the incorporation and regulation of railroad companies in the Territories of the United States was read, and Mr. STEWART explained its provisions. He said the object of the bill was to enable people in the Territories who desired to build railroads with their own money to do so without applying to Congress or the Territorial Legislature for a charter. The bill granted no public land except for stations, depots and right of way. He thought the bill perfect, having been carefully examined by lawyers on the committee.

New Election in Louisiana.

Mr. CARPENTER said several weeks ago he introduced a bill for a new election in Louisiana. It was important that the bill should be disposed of. He had consulted with the Senator from Louisiana (West), who desired to speak on the bill, and he now gave notice that on Monday next, after the expiration of the morning hour, he would move that the Senate proceed to the consideration of that bill.

Mr. CAMERON moved that the Senate go into executive session.

The Senate then went into executive session, and soon after adjourned.

HOUSE.

Bridge Over the Arkansas River.

Mr. NEGLEY, from the Committee on Commerce, reported a bill giving consent for the erection of a bridge across the Arkansas river at Pine Bluff, Ark. Passed.

Pittsburgh Marine Hospital.

Mr. SESSIONS reported a bill to provide for the sale of the present Marine Hospital and site, and the purchase and erection thereon of a new marine hospital at Pittsburgh.

After remarks by Messrs. Negley, Randall and Speer in explanation and advocacy of the bill, Mr. GARFIELD offered an amendment authorizing the Secretary of the Treasury to contract with the city authorities of Pittsburgh to care for such persons as are now cared for by the marine hospital. The amendment was rejected and the bill passed.

Public Buildings.

Mr. PRATT, from the Committee on Public Buildings and Grounds, reported a bill authorizing the Secretary of the Treasury to defer operations on public works authorized but not yet commenced, or to proceed with the same, as he may deem best for the public interest. Referred on a point of order to the Committee of the Whole.

The Eight Hour Law.

Mr. KILLINGER, from the same committee, made a report on the subject of the alleged violation of the eight hour law in the erection of the New York postoffice building. The committee reports that the law is not being violated in work done under Government supervision, and that as to work done under contractors, there is no way of enforcing the law.

The report and testimony were ordered printed, and the committee discharged from further consideration.

Civil Service Reform.

Mr. WOODFORD, from the Committee on Civil Service Reform, reported a bill providing that no officer of the United States shall directly or indirectly receive or be paid for his own use or benefit any money or property of the United States except his salary or compensation, and that no public property shall be used by officials or by any person for private purposes, the act not to be construed as to prevent the payment of all actual and necessary traveling expenses when traveling on legitimate and necessary duty pertaining to their offices.

Mr. DAWES offered an amendment by inserting the words "or make any private profit or use of the labor or service of any person employed by the United States, which labor or service is paid for by the United States."

The morning hour expired and the bill went over until to-morrow.

The House then resumed consideration of The Currency Bill.

Mr. COBURN made a speech in favor of the bill. He denied the assertion that what the South and West lacked was not currency, but capital. He maintained the contrary, that it was not capital they wanted, but currency. The census tables showed that they had wealth and capital in abundance, quite enough to command respect and to silence those who insolently made such a statement. He could see no safety in contraction and none in standing still. The bill passed by the Senate was now on the Speaker's table. So far as it went it was a measure of relief, and his advice would be to adopt that measure without amendment as the best that could be done at present. Specie payment was a myth everywhere. The banks always suspended on a run. Time and credit would work the Government out of debt and bring the currency to the gold point. Why did not the great Eastern bankers give an example by withdrawing their circulation? Legal tenders were the life-blood of the nation in war and peace. With them wages had risen fifty per cent. It was the poor man's currency. It was the farmer's currency, for it gave him good prices and a home market.

Mr. TOWNSEND opposed the bill as one that provided for an unlimited inflation of the currency. He warned the author of the bill (Maynard) that this bill was paving the way to repudiation. This condition of things had been predicted two thousand years ago, when Virgil wrote "Facilis descensus averni sed revocare graduam; hic est labor, hoc opus est," which rendered into vernacular, meant that the gentleman from Tennessee might provide for the issue of a large mass of shinplasters, but that it would be hard work and labor to redeem them. [Laughter.] He argued that this bill would render specie payments indefinite, and would probably postpone them forever. There was but one way to get out of the difficulty, and that was to get out of the same hole that we went in at. As they had gone in by expansion, so they must go out by contraction.

Mr. BECK stated that he had early in the session prepared and had referred to the Committee on Ways and Means a bill which he had hoped would have been reported back, but it had not been. The purpose of it was to substitute notes of the Government for those of national banks, and to give to the people instead of to bondholders the credit of the Government. Under the present system a few men obtained the credit of the Government for almost nothing, and the pending bill only proposed to extend it from a few men who now had it to others of a like class, who hoped to have bonds. He happened to be able to move his bill as a substitute for the pending measure. He would make legal tenders receivable in payment of all duties due to the Government. All depreciation of the currency had been brought about by the Government in the interest of bondholders by repudiating its own debts and by refusing to take legal tenders in payment of customs duties, while it forced its citizens to take legal tenders in payment of private debts. It was the duty of the Government to manage its own currency, and to see that it is kept good, uniform and of equal value everywhere. He warned the East not to oppress the West, for in ten years two-thirds of the members of the House would come from west of the Alleghenies, and it might be that other great avenues to the ocean would be found besides the present ones, that the Mississippi and St. Lawrence might be made great water highways for the produce of the South and West. The people of the East had wealth, income bonds, and Congress had a right to tax them all. He hoped to see the day when the wealth of the country, and not its poverty, would bear the burdens of taxation.

A recess was here taken.

Evening Session.—The attendance at the evening session was confined to those members who had speeches to deliver. Speeches were confined to fifteen minutes each. Mr. McDill (Wis.) occupied the Speaker's chair.

NEW ORLEANS.

High Water—The River Overflowing its Banks—Serious Damage Apprehended.

NEW ORLEANS, April 8.—There were heavy showers of rain at intervals during the day. Since 4 P. M. it has been raining steadily, blowing half a gale, varying from southeast to southwest. The river is from one to five inches above the high water mark of 1867. It is running over the levee at several points in the city. Orange and Louisa streets, of the third district, the ferry landing opposite Jackson square, and the railroad tracks are covered with water, running through briskly. At Carrollton the wind carried the water over the levee during the day, and this afternoon, from increasing rain, serious damage is apprehended. A break occurred in the levee below Carrolton. The city authorities have a large force at work endeavoring to repair the damage.

FOREIGN.

CANADA.

Archbishop Tache's Manifesto in Behalf of Riel.

OTTAWA, ONT., April 8.—The Times this morning publishes the conclusion of Archbishop Tache's manifesto, in which he sums up the argument on the Riel question. The imperial authorities, he contended, are bound by the acts of their agent (the Governor General), and the Dominion authorities by repeated promises of pardon, and by receiving delegates after the murder of Scott.

It is possible that Attorney General Clark's illness and his consequent inability to attend may cause a further postponement of the proceedings until to-morrow. It is rumored that the French members will move that a month's leave of absence be granted Riel, on the ground that he is about to surrender to the Quebec authorities.

In the House, last night, the Premier stated, in answer to a question, that the Government did not intend to apply for any amnesty for offences committed in the north territories during the insurrection of 1869.

OTTAWA April 8—Evening.—The House has adjourned, and the Riel question has been postponed until to-morrow. Riel will not appear until Archbishop Tache arrives from Manitoba, when he will be guided by his advice. There was intense excitement. Crowds filled the galleries and about 1,000 persons were unable to gain admission to the House.

FRANCE.

Austria's Position in the Late War.

PARIS, April 8.—Le Temps to-day published the full text of the dispatch from the Austrian Premier, Von Beust, to Prince Metternich, Austrian Minister at Paris, dated July, 1870: "We consider the cause of France as our own, but the alliance of Russia and Prussia prevents the armed intervention of Austria." Von Beust advises Prince Metternich to suggest that the good will of Italy may be obtained and the mediation of that Government in the settlement of the Franco-Prussian difficulty secured if France will permit the occupation of Rome by the Italians.

THE ELECTION.

Missouri.

ST. LOUIS, April 8.—Full returns of the election yesterday show the choice of five Democrats, three Republicans and four Independents to the City Council, which will stand with the members holding over, Democrats, 14; Republicans, 6; Independents, 4. For School Directors, three Republicans, three Independents and two Democrats are elected. The Independents are also Republicans.

The issue of two millions and a half bonds for the improvement of the streets of the city was defeated by a majority of 4,700, only two wards giving majorities in favor of it.

Kansas.

FORT SCOTT, April 8.—At the election yesterday the entire Reform ticket, with Col. J. M. Terry at the head for Mayor, was elected, with the exception of Police Judge and one Councilman. The fight was mainly on the temperance issue.

LEAVENWORTH, April 8.—Colonel Abernethy, Independent, was elected Mayor over W. P. Barland, Republican, by 129 majority. The Republicans elect a majority of the Council and the entire Board of Education. The temperance question did not figure in the canvass.

Nebraska.

OMAHA, NEB., April 8.—Yesterday's election resulted in favor of Chase, Republican, for Mayor, by 625 majority. The Republicans also carry the Treasurer, Clerk and Police Judge, and the Democrats the Marshal. The municipal election at Fremont resulted in favor of the people's candidates against the Republicans, at Grand Island in favor of the Republicans, and at Plattsmouth in favor of the people's ticket.

STATE BREVITIES.

ALLENTOWN invested $150,000 in water works, which yield an annual income of $25,337.

THE Mercer Press says that a crusade for the abolition of corner loafing would be welcomed in that borough.

THREE FEET ten inches of coal has been found on the farm of Mr. Guthrie, between Bethel and Middlesex, Mercer county.

THE coal miners in the employ of the Mercer Iron and Coal Company, at Stoneborough, are on a strike for higher wages.

THE next annual fair of the Crawford County Farmers' and Stock Breeders' Association will be held in Meadville on the 16th, 17th and 18th of September next.

WE understand there is a project on foot for building a railroad from the mouth of the Sinnemahoning to Karthaus, in the lower end of Clearfield county.

MR EGOLF, of Pottstown, was confronted by a pole cat and six young ones. The battle was not with the strong, for he killed the whole seven at one shot.

THERE are now under contract in New Castle fifteen store rooms, eleven of which are to be three story buildings. Four on Mill street are to be but two stories.

GRAZIE, a three year old daughter of Mr. T. B. Graham, of Crawford county, was seriously crushed one day last week, by a large log rolling on her, while playing upon a pile.

LOGAN HALL, Altoona, was partially destroyed by fire on Friday afternoon last. It was owned by the Pennsylvania Railroad Company, and six or eight hundred dollars will probably repair the damage.

THE dwelling of John S. Nelson, of Springfield township, Mercer county, was destroyed by fire on the 23d ult. The fire broke out in the roof, and is supposed to have originated from a spark. Loss about $2,000.

THE fifty-fifth anniversary of the institution of Odd Fellowship in the United States occurs on the 29th inst. In a number of localities the day will be appropriately celebrated by organizations of that order.

A CHAP near Middlesex, Mercer county, recently climbed a tree to shake a coon. He, however, fell down himself, and his dogs mistaking him for the game, tore him badly before they discovered their mistake.

THE following is the number and size of the farms in Northumberland county: Of all sizes, 2,087; under 2 acres 3 and under 10, 80; 10 and under 20, 140; 30 and under 60, 456; 50 and under 100, 856; 100 and under 500, 554.

PROF. WICKERSHAM has telegraphed W. E. Caveny, Esq., of Phoenixville, asking if he could make room for fifty additional scholars at Chester Springs Orphan School. That gentleman replied that he could and that they might be sent immediately.

HON. DAVID ROBINSON, on Monday of last week, drilled through coal 4 feet 4 inches thick, at a depth of 57 feet, on the farm of John Guthrie, between Bethel and Middlesex, Mercer county. On Thursday 3 feet 6 inches of coal was struck in another hole on the same farm.

THE Erie Observer learns that Mr. Hiram Dickson, of East Springfield, has a cow that may be said to be a continuous milker. For six years she has regularly sent to the dairy an overflowing pan of milk, without troubling her owner with a solitary juvenile bovine.

ACCORDING to the census of 1870, Lycoming county had 121 saw mills, with a capital invested of $5,637,870, and employing 1,921 men at an expenditure of $731,021 for wages. The value of materials is given at $5,173,796. The value of materials and products have greatly increased since that time.

THE mills at Harrisburg are all in operation except the Paxton works; the operatives there demand an increase in wages from the late reduction. The Chesapeake nail works are running double turn, producing 3,000 kegs per week. A number of the self-feeding nail machines and the automatic nail picker are in use in this works.

THE Northwestern Pennsylvania Poultry Association fully organized at Corry, with the following excellent selection of officers: President, Wm. A. Jordon, Corry. Vice Presidents, Major Colegrove, Amos Heath, J. H. Cornwell, Corry; S. F. Coleman, Titusville; A. McLaren, Meadville. Executive Committee, H. Burchard, A. D. Colegrove, F. S. Penney, R. Hover, Dr. H. O Mackres, Corry; W. A. Coborn, Titusville; N. D. Mead, Clymer. Treasurer, J. D. Dezendoof. Corresponding Secretary, S. B. Gail. Recording Secretary, J. A. Pain.

AN accident occurred to William Roberts, at the Cambria Steel Works, Johnstown, on Monday, which may prove fatal. By some means a ladle filled with molten metal overturned and spilled the contents into the pit. Mr. Roberts was engaged at his employment in the vicinity, and the flash of the metal, after it struck the ground in the pit, extended to the place where he was standing, almost completely enveloping him. His most serious burns are about the hands and face, but his body was protected by the woolen clothing worn by him. He is a married man and has several children.

LAST THURSDAY afternoon the wife of Peter Simmons, residing in Erie, went out of the house on an errand, leaving their little four year old son alone in the house. She missed him upon her return, and after waiting a little while began to look about among the neighbors; but none had seen him. The search was extended, but no tidings came of the missing boy, and finally some one noticed that the cistern at his own home was open, and upon putting a garden rake down, the teeth caught in clothing, and the search was over, too late to be of benefit, for the last spark of life had been extinct long before the body was found.

NEW RAILROAD.

Formal Opening of the Parker and Karns City Railroad.

The formal opening of the Parker and Karns City Railroad took place yesterday, and was made a festal occasion. The road, which runs through from Parker to Karns City, "taps" a country rich in mineral resources, the development of which can not but follow the completion of this new railroad enterprise. The road is a "narrow gauge," and is one of the best of that class in the country. It has been constructed with great care, so as to ensure the safety and comfort of the traveling public. The fact that it has long been needed is attested in the amount of business done—even before the road was ready for the formal opening. It has been taxed to the utmost since the rolling stock was put on, and additional equipments have been ordered.

The opening of the road embraced an excursion from Parker to Karns City, with dinner at the latter place and a banquet in the evening at the Philips House, Parker City. The programme was carried out without a single accident to mar the ...

Sanborn Contracts Investigation.

Special Dispatch to the Pittsburgh Gazette.

WASHINGTON, April 8, 1874.

Anything but Complimentary Position.

Hon. J. M. Marshall, Third Assistant Postmaster General, who is a strictly religious and moral gentleman, is somewhat annoyed at the inadvertence of the publishers of a postal periodical sent over the country containing his signature to the advertisement of a New York lawyer, announcing the fact that divorces can be obtained without publicity. Through the carelessness of the printer, Mr. Marshall appears as a partner of the divorce lawyer, which is anything but complimentary to his sentiments.

After Another Patent.

Stevenson, the noted car builder and the proprietor of nearly all the patents in existence appertaining to horse cars, is endeavoring to get a patent for a mirror placed on the front of cars over the head of the driver, to enable him to open and shut the sliding door at the back of the car. His application will not be granted, as the Commissioner of Patents holds that mirrors were made to look in, and they are not a patentable article.

Osage Indians Indignant.

The Osage tribe of Indians who were recently here endeavoring to get control of their six million dollars worth of property, went home feeling very much hurt and indignant at their failure to bring the Commissioner around to their views. They plainly indicated that they intended to give trouble upon their return home, but the Commissioner plainly told them that for any depredations committed by them he would see to it that they paid for it to a penny out of the funds belonging to them and held by the Government.

The Secretaryship of the Treasury.

In view of prospective changes in the Cabinet, caused by the retirement of Secretary Richardson, many prominent members of Congress are manifesting feelings of strong hostility to the transfer of any of the other Cabinet members to the Secretaryship of the Treasury. Should the influence become potential, it will keep Mr. Delano at the head of the Interior Department, instead of putting him in Secretary Richardson's place. Members are quite outspoken in opposition to his transfer.

Charitable Institutions Asking Aid.

Numerous charitable institutions throughout the country are again asking aid of the National Government. The hard times lately has increased their responsibility and made heavier demands upon their finances; but the Government has likewise suffered of late, and it is certainly going to be a bad year for appropriations of this character. Usually, when given, they are provided for in the miscellaneous appropriation bill, which will not be considered for some little time.

Transferring National Bank Circulation.

The law transferring $25,000,000 national bank circulation from those banks having an excess to those in the West and South who have not their proportion, is, according to the Comptroller of the Currency, nearly ready to be enforced, as the $54,000,000 granted by the act is about all taken, at which time the law requires the transfer to be made. The Comptroller of the Currency wants the law requiring the transfer to be repealed, which will probably be done.

DIAMOND.

WASHINGTON, April 8, 1874.

The Sanborn Contracts.

The Committee on Ways and Means held another session to-day on the Sanborn case, and examined under oath Wm. C. A. Waddell and his son, Lloyd D. Waddell, of New York. Their testimony related merely to their connection with Sanborn, they having originally procured information in regard to unpaid legacy and succession taxes, which information was afterwards worked up by Coughlan and collections made through the District Attorney's office. Waddell was to receive twenty five per cent. of the sums collected, but that rate was reduced to ten per cent., and finally the contract was annulled. Both Waddell and his son denied all knowledge of any connection with the matter of any member of Congress, or of any Treasury official.

Gen. Butler came before the committee and complained that a witness had been examined in reference to his private affairs, and that he had not been notified to be present to hear the testimony.

Solicitor Banfield made an additional statement to the committee, defending his official acts in the matter of the Sanborn contracts against reflections on him which he supposed were made by Secretary Richardson and Assistant Secretary Sawyer.

The point of Mr. Banfield's statement was that his duties in regard to the Sanborn contracts were not original, but merely advisory; that he was not responsible for initiating the system, but that he was prepared to share with other officials of the department the responsibility of having concurred in it. The system had been initiated, after consultation with him, by Secretary Boutwell and the then Assistant Secretary (Richardson).

District of Columbia Investigation.

O. H. Quimby, of Chicago, under whose superintendency the Degolyer No. 2 was laid, was before the District Investigating Committee, and testified that the Board of Public Works was not aware of the worthlessness of this pavement until witness had called attention to it one year after. Vice President Ward, of the Board of Public Works, was then put on the stand and examined in regard to the general management of the office.

Henry Stowers, who was yesterday requested to examine Bridge street, Georgetown, and ascertain if John G. Evans treated the wood laid by him in accordance with the contract, returned with a specimen block, and testified that the wood was ironized, but very imperfectly.

COLUMBUS.

Meeting of the Western Rail Mill Association.

COLUMBUS, April 8.—The Western Rail Mill Association met in this city to-day. Representatives were present from nine points. The association comprises all the rail mills in and west of Pittsburgh, about thirty-one in number. As no action would be conclusive without a vote of the majority of the association, it was decided to adjourn without transacting formal business, to meet in Chicago in June. All mills represented in the meeting to day are idle and without orders, and reports from various sources show that nearly the entire set of mills in the association are without business. Parties with thirty-five years' experience in the iron trade reported that they have never known such stagnation in the manufacture of rails. It was also stated at the meeting that the receipts of Western railroads during the past month have fallen off more than twenty-five per cent. below those of the corresponding month of last year, and as a consequence very few companies are ordering rails for any purpose.

BOSTON.

Balloting for U. S. Senator.

BOSTON, April 8.—The fourteenth ballot for United States Senator was taken to-day. The whole number of votes cast was 270; necessary to a choice, 136. Dawes received 96; Hoar, 79; Curtis, 72; Adams, 16; Washburn and Sanford received two each, and Whittier, George T. Bigelow and Phillips one each.

The fifteenth ballot was as follows: Whole number of votes, 269; necessary to a choice, 135. Dawes received 91; Hoar, 65; Curtis, 72; Adams, 19; Sanford, 11; Washburn, 7; Judge Colt, 2; Whittier and Phillips, 1 each. The convention took a recess for one hour.

Sixteenth ballot.—Whole number, 269; necessary for a choice, 135; Dawes received 90; Hoar, 63; Curtis, 72; Adams, 19; Sanford, 13; Washburn, 6; Judge Devens, 2; Judge Colt, 2; Phillips and Whittier one each.

Seventeenth ballot.—Whole number, 261; necessary for a choice, 131; Dawes received 82; Hoar, 60; Curtis, 72; Adams, 16; Sanford, 11; Banks, 7; Washburn, 5; Devens, 4; Charles Hale, Amasa Walker, Whittier, and Phillips one each. Adjourned until to-morrow.

ARKANSAS.

Inexhaustible Mines of Gold.

LITTLE ROCK, April 8.—A special dispatch from Fulton says: Captain Halloway arrived here to-day from the newly discovered gold mines on the north fork of the Ouachita, en route to St. Louis to purchase apparatus wherewith to commence active operations. The mines are situated in the mountains near the Choctaw line, and are richer than at first supposed. The Captain passed through the silver district on his way here, and reports the wildest excitement over the recent discoveries. After an examination of the ores and mines, he pronounces the former very rich and the latter inexhaustible, and says that the half has not been told. The Joplin Mining Company will at once commence the erection of ... smelters for working the antimony ... found in the most extensive lodes ... in the world. Miners and adv... ...cking to HARRISBURG.

Wallace's "City Government" Bill Passed by the Senate—Regulating Valuations—Pittsburghers at the Capital—The Latest Democratic Dodge.

Special to the Gazette.

HARRISBURG, April 8, 1874.

SENATE.

At the morning session of the Senate the following bills were read.

Mr. ERMENTROUT—one to prevent the removal of stone, gravel, &c., from unslated lands.

Selling "Liened" Goods.

Also, an act authorizing common carriers, factors, &c., to sell goods, wares, and merchandise unclaimed, upon which they have a lien. This bill was passed finally.

Separate Earnings.

Mr. ANDERSON, of Allegheny: A supplement to the act securing to married women their earnings.

Mr. ERMENTROUT: An act to prevent cattle running at large; also to impose a fine for defiling ponds and streams leased for securing ice.

Mr. MCCLURE: An act relative to the organization of courts of justice.

The remainder of the morning session was employed in reading bills the first and second time.

City Governments.

Mr. WALLACE'S bill for the government of cities was called up at the afternoon session, and after some discussion, was passed finally.

HOUSE.

The morning session of the House was principally occupied in reading bills the first time. Among those which passed first reading were the following.

Commuting Sentences.

An act to provide for the commutation of sentences by the Governor.

"Free Passes."

An act fixing a fine of $100 for the issue of a free pass by any railroad company except where granted for a valuable consideration.

About Valuations.

A bill was read in place, as a supplement to the act relating to county rates and levies, it prescribes the basis of valuation of lands used for agricultural purposes.

Legalizing Agreements.

Also an act legalizing and giving effect to agreements of release and compromises between creditors and debtors.

Corporations.

The entire afternoon session was devoted to a discussion of bill No. 44, relating to corporations.

The Pardon Board.

City Solicitor Bigelow is here before the Board of Pardons. "Tommy" appears in the interest of the young man Maitland, who was sentenced to the Penitentiary last summer for attempting to assassinate his uncle—a Mr. McIntyre. The affair transpired in Temperanceville, and created considerable excitement at the time, and subsequently at the trial.

The Prothonotary's William.

Prothonotary Kennedy also favors the Capital with his presence. "Doc" is looking after a little bill which makes a change in the State tax on writs. The bill passed the first reading in the House this morning, and it is probable it will go through.

Democratic Dodging.

The Democrats held a caucus this morning and agreed on a new dodge. There was a full representation of the Democratic members of both Houses. They decided to oppose the Centennial appropriation bill and the bill allowing an increase of the debt of Philadelphia until the Republicans in the House agreed to pass a "fair" apportionment bill in reference to Philadelphia—that is a fair bill from a Democratic standpoint—which is practically the whole loaf.

They also discussed the propriety of recalling the announcement of the Convention, and a postponement of the Convention, until a later day than was at first set for it. Senator Wallace led the opposition to an early Convention, and a resolution was finally passed, requesting a recall of the Convention and a postponement of its meeting until later in the campaign.

A Republican View.

The action of the Democratic caucus in reference to opposing certain bills was discussed freely among Republicans this morning. At first it was thought this would complicate matters—so far at least as the Centennial bill is concerned. This bill has already passed the Senate, and has gone through all the preliminary parliamentary routine in the House, and the general impression was that it would go through without trouble. This action of the Democrats, however, if persisted in, will make the bill a party measure, and will necessitate a union of the Republican forces. There are, however, enough Republican votes in the house, to put it through without the aid of the Democracy, and so the game of the latter will not win.

Personal.

Rev. Dr. Holmes and family, from Pittsburgh, have arrived here and settled down in their new home. The Dr. takes charge of Grace M. E. Church, and seems to have created a good impression among his new parishioners.

ARCTIC.

WEATHER REPORT.

THE bill providing for the removal of the Marine Hospital, in this city, has passed the House at Washington.

IT is intimated from Washington that the President will certainly not veto the Senate bill, increasing the currency, and it is expected to pass the House.

PROTHONOTARY KENNEDY, very wisely, has set about settling his trouble with the Controller by having a law enacted that will clearly determine their respective duties.

IT has been intimated that our Street Commissioners are waiting for soil and fertilizers to accumulate in our streets for first-class potato patches. They will then raise a crop of vegetables, and clean up in the Fall.

WE HAVE, just now, a full supply of local excitement in the pipe contract settlements. It is satisfactory to know that the form of adjudication that must now be resorted to, will settle the affair in a decided, if not satisfactory manner.

A CONSIDERABLE amount of fun is being indulged by the press, over the new Congressional order that the "laugh and applause" shall be left out of the reports of speeches made. They will be dreary reading without the reportorial spicery.

THE cruel assassination of a Protestant Missionary in Mexico, a short time since, has been frequently referred to by the press of this country. It is now developed that six of the assassins have been condemned to death, and the priest who incited the outrage is about to be tried. This shows that the authorities in Mexico do not sympathize with such outrages.

THE plan for securing a uniform system of text-books, involved in a bill presented to the State Senate by Senator Rutan, meets the approval of the Allegheny School Board, and of educators throughout the State. Its success depends entirely on the commission that shall be appointed, and that Governor Hartranft will select a suitable commission, we do not, for a moment, doubt. The result will be to give us a better, as well as more uniform, system of text-books than we now have.

WE congratulate the Democracy of the country on the happy event in Connecticut. It is so long since they were cheered by a real victory, that carried with it fruits of any importance, that they are overjoyed. But they suffer their exuberance to carry them too far. The roseate views of coming power in the nation, and a consequent feast on official fatness, is a little previous. They have indulged the like before, but the people are quite certain to learn them, in due season, this useful lesson—that, however, they may act in transient cases, they have no purpose to entrust national power to the Democracy. And so will it be again.

ONE of the "independent" journals, whose status has been defined as "not to be depended on," comments on our suggestion in behalf of a late convention, in which it assumes that the candidates are already sufficiently known. Possibly so. But suppose the people do not happen to be particularly attracted to the candidates already in the field—what then? Are they to have no time to look further, to compare notes, to develop a decided choice? All else aside, we are of the opinion that the farmers are more interested in the assessment business than they are in politics, just now, and will be for two months to come. And we would not give much for the chances of a candidate who may force himself on them at this time. We do not see that a canvass of four or five months is at all necessary at any time, over offices of local or State importance. We have had entirely too much of that already. Let the people attend to their regular duties for four or five months yet to come—and the nominations will be all the more carefully made, and cheerfully ratified. Such is our conviction, and we urge it in the interest of the party, and not for or against any particular candidate.

NOT INFLATION.

The unusual energy with which certain persons and papers oppose the action of Congress on the currency question leads us to infer that they are particularly and unusually interested in the subject. Yet, if they really know anything, they must be aware that so far as the legal tenders are concerned, the utmost limit of additional inflation will be $18,000,000. The act of Congress merely legalizes an issue of legal tenders already made—an issue positively forced by the demands of the people and the necessities of the Treasury. It is, therefore, the merest balderdash to talk about inflation as the result of the vote legalizing the reissue of the $44,000,000 of legal tenders. Of the $18,000,000 not already issued, we understand the policy of the Treasury to be to hold them, subject to the necessities of the Treasury. They have been legalized, but this does not necessarily involve their being put into currency. There is not, then, any practical inflation as the result of the law referred to. It had already taken place, without impairing the credit of the country or disordering its business.

Of the $46,000,000 of national bank currency, it has been held, by journals of discrimination and ability, that the free banking law, and the issue of currency under it, could not be properly termed inflation. The reason is, that the banks would obtain their notes by pledging Government bonds as collaterals. Hence there would be no so-called, irredeemable Government paper issued, but simply the paper of the banks, under Government regulation, and with its endorsement, for which the National Treasury will hold its own interest-bearing bonds as security. If the free banking law does not involve inflation, for the reason above mentioned, neither does the vote of Congress, increasing the national bank currency $46,000,000. That currency is precisely the same as would be issued under the free banking law, is obtained in the same way, and involves precisely the same financial principles. If the one would not involve inflation, neither does the other. We urge, therefore, that the vote of Congress does not practically inflate the currency at all. It simply settled the legal status of the greenback issue, and gives the people the right to secure to themselves more national bank currency by a pledge of Government bonds.

ECONOMY IN EXPENDITURES.

Were the affairs of our city entirely of a private character, and their management conducted by a business man of shrewdness and grasp, it is a question whether they would, in all particulars, be conducted precisely as they are now. Let the water pipes and works be taken as an illustration of our meaning. The water assessments have been generally regarded as extremely high. They compare with all other personal taxes as four to one. That is, where the combined personal taxes for all other city purposes amount to five dollars, the water tax will usually reach about twenty dollars. Yet we have nothing of extraordinary merit to show for this. Our water works are barely sufficient to supply the current necessities of the people,—and our new works are yet in embryo. More than this, they are in a very tangled and unsatisfactory condition. Putting aside the legal difficulties which surround nearly every proceeding and outlay, thus far had, there is much uncertainty relative to the quality of much of the work that has been done. Not being experts, we do not enter the list of critics, whether as to the foundations for the engines, the basins, or the quality of the pipes. Nor can we speak assuredly as to the value of the engines. All of these are involved in a cloud of dispute that is unfortunate, even admitting that all is right, and that the criticisms are made in a captious and envious spirit.

There is one item, however, that does seem open to general and somewhat sweeping criticism. It is that of laying miles of costly pipes, in localities that are sparsely settled, and that are filling up slowly, and where streets are not being graded and paved. We readily appreciate the importance of putting down pipes where grading and paving is being done, even if but few residences are built. But, as a rule, streets with few dwellings on them are not speedily paved,—and as to grading, this does not involve any necessity for pipes, when the grades are so frequently changed. Yet the fact is, that along the line of prospected streets,—that are only laid out, but not opened, or graded, or paved, or if opened, not graded, vast quantities of pipe are strewn, utterly useless to any one, yet on the cost of which interest must be paid, for which taxes must be raised. That this business has been carried on to an entirely unnecessary limit, may be readily seen, if any one will take the trouble to visit the lines of Liberty or Penn streets in the city, or any of the rural wards,—particularly what is termed "Seventh street road," or Hazelwood wards. Vast pipes have been laying there for years, exposed to damage from the action of the elements, or from vicious persons. We do not blame the contractor who furnished the pipe, that this is so. He made proposals for supplies demanded, and furnished what he agreed to. The fault is in the management which purchase what was not needed.

Nor does what we have said convey the worst phase of the case. The GAZETTE has repeatedly called attention of late to the absolute squandering of money, as well as damage to property involved in the perpetual change of grades which is going on. The utter lack of confidence between the proper departments, shown in the revision of each other's work,—the City Engineer's report being revised and frequently changed by the Survey Committee, and its report in turn revised, altered, cut up, changed, revised again, and changed by Councils, till but little is left of the original report. Superintendent Atkinson shows, that in addition to all the expense, and damage we have alleged, the frequent changes in grade result, in some instances, in the cost of pipe being doubled. That is water pipe, after being laid, are taken up, put down, lifted, lowered, and changed to suit the ever-changing street grade, until the original cost is duplicated. We submit that the management that will continue this extraordinary state of affairs, is simply reckless and extravagant.

We do not doubt that some of the evils we have fallen into are the result of the sanguine anticipations of the Water Commission, and therefore worthy, to the extent we indicate, of gentle and generous judgment. Their idea was, we think, to urge rapidly forward all the work in concert. They aimed to have reservoirs, engines, mains,—all the paraphernalia of a complete system of water supply provided, through concert of action in all the departments, so that, their work done, it would be thorough in every particular. The motive was commendable; and, had their operations been sufficiently guarded to have avoided the misfortunes that befel them, we do not doubt that the work would have been thus completed. But all their plans have been thrown into confusion, and the Commission has been resolved back into its original elements, and thus the work they mapped out is subject to the judgment that may be passed on it in detail. But after giving the Commission the benefit of pure intentions, we cannot divest the subject of the evil that comes from the perpetual change-of-grade system. We look upon it as the root evil of our city management. It entails more loss, necessitates higher taxes, inflicts more damage on property, is more of a nuisance than anything else with which we are conversant in our city administration. Every new development only shows more plainly the magnitude of the evil.

We appreciate the force of the argument that may be advanced, that all else being right, it is sound economy to lay water pipes before street shall be paved; also, to make them sufficiently large to meet every probable future demand, on the streets through which they shall be laid. Conceding this, let us suggest. 1. That Councils take into consideration and mature an ordinance relative to street grades, that will permit of the uniform grading of the streets of the entire city. 2. That this system being matured, the City Engineer, if he possesses the full confidence of Councils, or some other Engineer, if he does not, be directed to make the proper surveys, prepare a map of them, with detailed statements in writing of the reasons and ideas involved in the grade of each particular street. 3. Let this report, with its drawings and explanations, be thoroughly examined by the Survey Committee, and the changes, if any, suggested, be referred back to the Engineer, with instructions to harmonize the entire plan. 4. Let the report, thus revised, go to Councils for final action, and this taken, the grade thus established should be like the laws of the Medes and Persians, unchangeable. This done, and the cost of other improvements will be very greatly diminished, and much jobbery and extravagance prevented.

THE New Hampshire State House is soon to have added to its already large collection of portraits, pictures of President Pierce, Governor James Miller, Jeremiah Mason and General John McNeil, all presented by relatives of the distinguished dead. That of the first mention will be a full length portrait for the Representatives' Hall. All will be painted by skillful artists.

THE marriage of M. Chamerot (the head of the Librairie Firmin Didot in Paris), with Mlle. Claudie Viardot, daughter of the eminent prima donna, Madame Pauline Viardot Garcia (sister of Malibran, and of M. Louis Viardot, the author), was celebrated at the Eglise de la Trinite in Paris.

ELDER W. G. W. GILLOCK, a missionary Baptist preacher, of Barren county, Kentuck, was ordained in 1840, and since then has witnessed 3,500 religious conversions, baptized 2,727 persons, and has constituted and built up 11 new churches in destitute neighborhoods. He now has pastoral care of five churches. His ministerial work has all been done in that State.

MISS PHOEBE COZZENS being a Bachelor and not a Spinster of Laws, the following may be regarded, we presume, as professional: "In her four years' experience she has found lawyers to be coarse, low bred, and greatly addicted to chewing and smoking tobacco; Judges to be ignorant and tyrannical, many of them spelling village with a 'w;' and Court rooms to be an utter abomination, dirty, filthy, reeking with the fumes of bad whisky and cigars, and filled with a wretched and unwholesome rabble."

EX-GOVERNOR CURTIN and wife have both been in ill-health since their return rom Russia, a year and a half ago. Some two or three months since they left their home in Bellefonte to spend the winter in Florida, in the hope that the mild climate there would prove beneficial to them. In this they have not been mistaken, and they are now journeying leisurely through the Southern States toward New Orleans, expecting to reach their friends in Centre county during the latter part of this month.

SOCIAL WASHINGTON was not long since wondering what it should do with Pinchback's wife in case Pinch succeeded in obtaining his seat in the Senate. These good ladies were appalled at the prospect of being compelled to exchange calls with a colored woman, and they therefore warned the sitting Senators beforehand. Pinchback is a shade or two lighter in cuticle than Logan, but what of Pinchback's spouse? She is described as an octoroon, the Caucasian blood being part French and part Spanish. Twenty-eight years of age, she is under the medium size, and is the mother of four children. Domestic duties have impaired her beauty somewhat, but she is still handsome. She is well educated, uncommonly vivacious, and quite ambitious.

THE steamship Europe, which foundered at sea on her voyage from Havre to New York, was one of the finest ships of the fleet owned by the French Trans-Atlantic Company, and was considered by all to be a fine, sea-worthy vessel, and well formed in every respect. She was lengthened last year at Newcastle-on-Tyne, England, and altered from a side-wheel steamer to a propeller. Her tonnage was four thousand six hundred, length four hundred and twenty-six feet; breadth of beam forty-four feet. She was commanded by Capt. Demarie, an able and experienced Captain, and who has been in the employ of the company for a number of years.

THE correspondents of the American and English papers who accompanied the Ashantee expedition, and notably the representatives of the London Telegraph and New York Herald, have vividly described the cemetery of Coomassie into which the headless bodies of the human sacrifices, made annually at the Ashantee Capital, were thrown. The Ashantee Golgotha is situated near the city, and the festering remains poison the air around the glen in which they lie for miles around. It is estimated that, since the city was founded, 120,000 human beings have been sacrificed to the hideous rites of this barbarous race, and their bodies thrown upon the open plain to rot and breed disease. Such is one of the customs of the people against whom the wrath of Great Britain was directed.

It seems he came into town with some companions to meet a friend, and was tracked to a ranche in Calzada Del Mente, where all were surrounded by a band of civil guards. Garcia and his companions, with revolvers in hand, dashed through the line of guards amid a volley of musketry, when they made for the bush and escaped under cover of night. Garcia was wounded by the volley, and Gonzale, his lieutenant, was killed.

AN EGYPTIAN CONSOLIDATION.

The Marriage of an Egyptian Princess.

[From the Pall Mall Gazette.]

The fetes given by the Viceroy of Egypt on the occasion of the marriage of his daughter, the Princess Zeineb Hanoum, with Ibrahim Pasha, were of a most brilliant description. The fetes commenced on Sunday, February 21, when the Princess was conducted from the palace of the Viceroy to that of her grandmother, his mother. Her departure was announced by salvoes of artillery, and for three days following the festivities were carried on. The invitations to the fetes were in accordance with the rank of each guest. The members of the priesthood received a special mark of honor by being invited on the first day. The next day was devoted to the entertainment of the Consul General and of the higher functionaries of the State, civil and military. Thirdly, and lastly, came the religious heads of the Christian communities, and the Vice Consuls, the Governors of Cairo and Alexandria, and the principal bankers and merchants of those cities. After the banquet was a magnificent display of fireworks, and on the same evening a ceremony of a different character took place in the apartments of the haremlik, where a number of European ladies and other notabilities were received by the daughters of the Viceroy.

The Princess, however, remained in a private room with the Princess mother and aunt of the Khedive until after dinner, when she received her lady guests in another apartment, where were displayed the costly marriage presents sent by the Sultan. The room was profusely and richly decorated, a carpet of the rarest furs covered the floor, and the walls and ceiling were hung with fabrics of inestimable value. Elevated in the middle of the room were three thrones covered with fine silk tissue with gold embroidery. On one of these the Princess, resplendent with jewels, took a seat, her mother and grand aunt seating themselves the one on her right hand, and the other on the left. To them now advanced their Highness the maternal grandmother of the Princess, the mother of Prince Ibrahim Pasha, and the wives of the Khedive; as they entered the room they opened bags, from which, in conformity with ancient custom, they took handfuls of gold, which they flung on the heads of the assemblage.

On the following day, Thursday, the bride was conducted with great pomp to the palace of her distinguished husband. In the van of the marriage cortage, caper ed the prefect of police on an Arab charger, richly caparisoned, accompanied by a brilliant entourage of officers. Following these marched detachments of cavalry and foot soldiers. Then came the ulemas and imams chanting invocations for the happiness of the princely couple. The equipages of the ladies belonging to the household of the Khedive and of Prince Ibrahim brought up the rear, followed and flanked by a body of the canvasses. The carriage which contained the Princess Zeineb was drawn by six horses. The streets were lined with troops, the forts thundered out their salutes, and vast multitudes thronged to witness the procession.

The Climate of Florida.

The air is humid enough to be soothing and balmy, with pine aroma, yet possesses the peculiar property which prevents the formation of mold, the rapid oxidization of metals, and the decay of animal tissue. Meats are preserved without salt, by suspension in a current of air, either in trees or meat rooms. These facts seem incredible, and almost inexplicable, when the vast amount of water in bayous, lagoons, lakes, and rivers exposed to evaporation is considered, as well as the nearness of water everywhere to the surface; but it is a condition known to exist also in New Mexico and Texas, under different circumstances. It is attributable to some unknown antiseptic in the atmosphere, and to its constant agitation by land and water breezes. The country is low and nearly level, extensively submerged by water in summer, and therefore malarious, but the ague is checked by the first frost, and is never contracted by strangers in the winter, and virulent cases of cases of western ague are cured by wintering in Florida.—Letter to Cincinnati Gazette.

Natural and Artificial Butter.

The Rhode Island Legislature is in a quandary. It wants to protect the purchasers of so-called dairy butter from being imposed upon with butter made by chemical process from the suet of beef, and finds natural laws opposed to legislation. Dairy butter is made from the suet of the cow just as artificial butter is made, the only difference being that the one is a natural, while the other is an artificial process. Both compounds are, strictly speaking, butter. To call the latter "oleo-margarine" in contradistinction to the former is nonsense, for dairy-made butter is "oleomargarine." There can be no doubt that artificial butter, prepared from the best quality of suet, is far more wholesome than the poor quality of dairy butter which is abundantly sold. There must remain prejudices against the one which all the rankness of the other will never counterbalance. Such a prejudice is quite intelligible. It would sink into insignificance, however, if the "excellent quality of butter chemically made from Thames mud" were brought into competition with "oleomargarine."

Killing a Cat.

There is a man on Franklin street, in Danbury, Ct. (says the News man), who has been engaged for the past few months in a mighty effort to kill a cat. In that time that unfortunate animal has explored the bottom of every sheet and stream of water within six miles of Danbury, has had an unintentional taste of the several new varieties of powder, and has got so that it can tell in the dark, without looking around, the difference between a half brick and a whole one. The man himself hasn't got a whole piece of clothing in his wardrobe, and has almost entirely lost the use of one leg from rheumatism, contracted while drowning the cat, and has more scratches on him than the survivor of four wives. His aged father says he will take a chair out in the yard on a pleasant afternoon, and sit there two hours at a time, and look at that cat and swear.

THE ROYAL BRIDE.

H. K. sent these lovely lines to the London Times anent the royal bride:

Nupta veni, Tibi turba colt, nive densior ipsa,
Verna velut tepeat, te veniente, dies;
Flore reple gremium, juga ceu Rhipæa refringens,
Hortus Hyperboreus det tibi totus opes;
Qua sine nocte micant æstivi marmoris amnes,
Et liquidæ tantum conspiciuntur aquæ.
Plebs ... quanta, tot luceat umbra lucernis;
Mane velut, duplices lux eat usque polos;
Rustica fer stipulam, picis injice dolia pubes,
Ardeat innumeris fax velut una jugis.
Tu quoque, Cara Socrus, salve! cui, Conjuge rapto,
Una fides superest, inter utramque facem.
En, duplices certant, veluti par dulce sororum,
Oscula siccatis plura det utra genis.
Fœdera quanta paras! Non ut sint addita regnis,
Regna sed inter se cogat ut unus amor.
Te penes Indus eat, Socerum penes affluat Oxus;
Annulus hic medium quod sit utrique flabit.
Tempestiva venit titulis jam laurea vestris,
Khiva, Comassæ par tibi palma viæ.

FINANCIAL.

Latest Advices Concerning Money and Stock Matters.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, THURSDAY, April 9, 1874.

A more hopeful feeling begins to be again prevalent in financial circles, and its influence on our banks and trade is apparent. While discounts will continue to be made cautiously, there will be a more liberal spirit developed. In some of our banks,—savings institutions more particularly,—they are trying to get back their Government bonds that were sold during the panic, before they loan or discount with a liberal hand. One of our institutions sold $300,000 of Governments during the panic, and has since bought back $100,000 of them. At first glance this may seem a wrong policy, and we think it is being followed too rigidly, but it is founded on correct views. In case of a panic, such institutions need securities that can be swiftly converted into cash, and for this purpose Governments are specially available, while mortgages would not be.

The real estate market is drooping. Real estate is difficult to sell at present, unless at a material decline from the asking prices of last season. This is the case more particularly with vacant lots and unimproved property. There is a prevailing impression among speculators that prices must go lower, while, on the contrary, holders are expecting a movement in the other direction as a result of currency increase. Between these two opinions the market halts.

There are rumors of prospective combination between the Pacific Mail Steamship Company and the Union Pacific and Panama Railroads, but it is not known that there is any truth in it. The matter, however, was much discussed in Wall street yesterday.

Negotiations were a day or two since closed resulting in a settlement of the large open account between the Northern Pacific Railroad Company and the estate of Jay Cooke & Co. By this settlement the advances made to the railroad company by its late fiscal agents are paid and discharged by the acceptance of the company's first mortgage bonds and other securities. This adjustment relieves the Northern Pacific Company of the principal embarrassment occasioned by the panic of September, and is an important step in the reorganization of the company's financial plans now in progress.

NEW YORK, April 8, 1874.

The Treasury disbursements were $40,000, and the customs receipts $280,000. Money was very easy at 3@4. Sterling 485 for sixty days and 488 for sight. Gold ranged 113⅛@113⅝; opened and closed at 113⅝. The carrying rates were 2@4. The clearings were $46,000,000. State bonds were quiet and nominal, except Tennessees, which are lower. Governments were quiet and firm. Railroad bonds were strong, with large business. Stocks were weak early in the day on realization, the general opposition to inflation by the newspapers, and rumors that the President would veto any inflation measure as soon as laid before him officially. The general list fell ¼@¾. The market became strong from the close of the second board until near the close, with an advance of ¼@1⅝ from the lowest point. In final dealings a slight weakness was noticed. The total sales were about 136,000 shares, of which 27,000 were Western Union, 19,000 Erie, 18,000 Pacific Mail, 17,000 Lake Shore, 14,000 New York Central, 13,000 Union Pacific, 8,000 St. Paul Common, and 8,000 Wabash. The advance in stocks during the afternoon was on Washington advices intimating that the President is in favor of inflation.

Cincinnati Iron Market.

CINCINNATI, April 6—Wm Means reports as follows: It is unpleasant to continue reporting the unfavorable condition of the iron trade, but it is best to know the facts and accept the issues squarely. If there is an overproduction of pig iron, it can easily be seen that the remedy naturally suggests itself, and those furnaces must be discontinued which are not able to prosper at near the present figures. It is not probable that high prices will ever rule again, excepting spasmodically and for very short periods, and furnace men should make their plans accordingly.

Condition of the Markets at Home and Abroad.

PITTSBURGH MARKETS.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, WEDNESDAY, April 8, 1874.

Trade continues dull, it is not improving as rapidly as expected, although in some departments of business, there has been more activity within the past few days, and we are in hopes that it will soon be more general. The grain and flour markets have stiffened somewhat both east and west recently, but there has been no perceptible improvement in this market; the grain trade has been very dull and unsatisfactory for some weeks past. The demand for the leading grocery staples, although possibly a little better than it was last month, has not come up to general expectation; and, furthermore, collections are slow. There is a moderate inquiry for Butter, Eggs, Potatoes, and produce generally, but the demand is restricted almost entirely to supplying immediate requirements.

APPLES—Sales in a regular way at $3.50@4.50 ₩ brl. for common to fair, and $5@5.50 for prime to choice.

APPLE BUTTER—65@75c ₩ gallon.

BEANS—$2@2.25 ₩ bushel, and dull.

BUTTER—There is a fair demand for the finer grades, but common stock is steadily accumulating and very dull; prime to choice roll, 36@38.

CHEESE—Prime New York Factory selling in a jobbing way, at 18¼@19.

CRANBERRIES—Quotable at from $15@18 ₩ brl., as to quality and condition.

DRIED FRUIT—Sales of Apples at 8 to 10c ₩ lb. and Peaches at 14@15 for halves. There is some inquiry for small fruits, such as Berries, Cherries, and our market is almost bare.

EGGS—Quotable at 15@16c.

FLOUR—Spring wheat flours, $6.75@7.25; red winters, $7.75@8.25; white wheat, $9@10. Rye Flour, $5.50@5.75.

GROCERIES—Trade continues slow, and the market presents nothing particularly new or important, excepting that roasted Coffee has dropped another cent in sympathy with the recent sharp shrinkage in green, although it is claimed that the former is considerably cheaper relatively than the latter. The stock of refined Sugars is comparatively light, and the market is firm, although prices are no better. There is a moderate inquiry for Molasses and Syrups, but no change in rates.

COFFEE.—Choice Rio, 30; prime, 29; good, 28, fair, 27¾. Roasted, 28 for 1 pound packages; loose, ¾c less.

SUGARS.—Patent Cut Loaf, 12¼; Crushed, Powdered and Granulated, 11c; Standard A, 10⅝; B, 10; Ex. C, 9⅞; Circle C, 9⅜; Franklin Extra C, 9⅝; Franklin No. 2 Extra C, 9¼; American Extra C, 9; Yellow Sugars, 8 to 9, as to quality.

MOLASSES—Strictly prime new crop New Orleans, 80c; fair to prime old, 70@75.

SYRUPS—Extra White Drips, 70c; Sugar Drips, 60c; Amber, 60@65; lower grades, 35@40, as to quality.

RICE—Choice Carolina, 9¼; Patna, 8⅞c; Rangoon, 8@8¼c.

GRAIN—The market for all kinds of Grain continues slow, and to dealers, unsatisfactory, as prices are too low here, taking the cost at the source of supply as a basis of comparison, and it appears to be almost impossible to put them any higher, notwithstanding the arrivals continue light. Wheat is quiet and prices nominally unchanged; $1.50@1.55 for red winter, and $1.60 @1.65 for white. The Oat market is quiet and unchanged at 54@56, as to quality. Ear Corn is coming in a little more freely, but prices remain as last quoted 75 on wharf and track. Rye is quiet and nominally unchanged at 95@$1. Nothing doing in Barley.

HAY—Baled continues dull, with the market overstocked, particularly with poor stock, but prices remain about as last quoted, $18@22 ₩ ton, as to quality.

HOMINY—Is still quotable at $5 ₩ brl. to the trade and $5.50 in a jobbing way.

ONIONS—$4@5 ₩ brl.

MAPLE SYRUP—Quotable at $1.10@1.15 for gallon jugs to the trade, and $1.20@1.25 in a jobbing way. Maple Sugar, in grain, 13@14.

POTATOES—Sales in a jobbing way at $1.25 to $1.35 per bushel, according to quality and condition.

PROVISIONS—Hams, Sugar Cured, ₩ lb, 12¾. Hams, canvased, 13. Sugar Cured Shoulders, 9⅜. Shoulders canvassed 9¾. Shoulders Plain, 8c. Sides Rib, 9⅞. Rib Sides, Clear, 10. Breakfast Bacon Rib, 12. Dried Beef Sugar Cured, 13⅜. Dried Beef canvassed, 17. Mess Pork, $17.50 per barrel. Ham Sausage, 10. Lard Prime Leaf in tierces, 10⅜. Lard Refined in tierces, 10⅜. Lard Prime Leaf in tierces, 10⅜. Prime Leaf in kegs, 11¼. Prime Leaf in buckets, 11⅜.

SEEDS—Clover Seed still quotable at $6 to $6.25 ₩ bushel. Timothy, $3.10@3.25. Flax Seed, $2.25 @2.30.

WHISKY—Highwines, 98@$1.

PITTSBURGH LIVE STOCK MARKET.

CENTRAL STOCK YARDS, EAST LIBERTY, WEDNESDAY, April 8, 1874.

ARRIVALS.

Following were arrivals of the different kinds of stock from and including Sunday up until noon today and in order to afford a comparison we append those of the corresponding time last week:

	Cattle	Hogs	Sheep
Sunday	97 cars	26 cars	4 cars
Monday	31 "	22 "	6 "
Tuesday	137 "	25 "	40 "
Wednesday—till noon	32 "	9 "	25 "
Total	295 "	82 "	75 "
Same time last week	370 "	80 "	65 "

CATTLE.

That trade has been very dull thus far, this week, is evident from the fact that the sales since Monday footed up 318 head, whereas, 519 changed hands during the corresponding time last week, when it was thought it was about as dull as it could be; the supply of market cattle is comparatively small, and there is a fair attendance of buyers, but instead of the market being, as it ordinarily is under similar circumstances better, it is worse. Up until noon to-day not a single bullock had been sold to go to Philadelphia, and very few, if any, for New York. The Philadelphia men claim that they have been paying too much here for cattle for some weeks past, and assert unless sellers are satisfied to accept about 25 cts per cwt from last week's rates that they will not buy a bullock; however, this is an old story and it has been repeated here so much of late, that holders don't seem to place much reliance in it, being impressed with the belief that it is gotton up for the occasion, to weaken and depress the market. It is claimed by the Philadelphia dealers that there are a very large number cattle run into that market ever week from Lancaster, Chester, and other adjoining counties in the eastern part of the State, and as the cost of transportation is little or nothing and the shrinkage next to nothing as compared with running them through from the west, owners can afford to undersell the owners of western cattle and have a margin, whereas the former may lose money. The probability is that the demand here will be light until the supply in the eastern part of the State, which is reported as being unusually large this year, is exhausted as the owners of western stock, bought either here or in Chicago, cannot compete with the owners of these State cattle with any show of success.

There were several droves of good to prime shipping steers on sale, but holders say they can not afford to sell at the prices buyers are willing to give, and unless the latter get their ideas up the probability is that the bulk of the good stock will be shipped on east in first hands within the next 24 hours: we are cognizant of some lots that cost close on to 6¾ delivered here that were held at 7c without takers, whereas last week the same quality of stock could have been disposed of readily at 7c, but this week, as already intimated, it is regarded as an outside price. How the market will wind up it is difficult at this writing to foretell, but we are inclined to the belief that shippers will, in case they can't better it, pitch in and clear the yards within the next 24 hours, and that, too, at last week's rates.

QUOTATIONS.

Extra 1,500 steers	6.90@7.00
Extra 1,400 steers	6.70@6.80
Prime 1,300 steers	6.40@6.50
Good 1,100@1,200 steers	6.00@6.25
Fair, 1,000@1,050 steers	5.50@5.75
Stockers, 800@900 lbs	4.75@5.00
Bulls, as to quality	4.00@5.00
Mixed rough stock	3.50@4.50

SHEEP.

The market was moderately active on Monday and Tuesday, and prices were pretty well sustained, but to-day, the arrivals being larger than was generally expected, trade was draggy and operators generally quoted a decline of from 25 to 35c ₩ cwt, and the market dull even at the decline. Prime fine wool 100 lb sheep cannot be fairly quoted above 8@8¼, whereas yesterday there were sales at 8.25 to 8 37½@8.95 lb fine wool, 7¼@7¾; 8 @85 lb, 7@7¼. The arrivals of clipped were the largest of the season, footing up some 10 or 12 cars, but in consequence of the mild weather they were all picked up and at very full rates, say 5¾ to 6¾, according to weight condition and quality. The York buyers, everything else being equal, are giving clippers the preference, but the Philadelphia men still prefer unshorn. Some of our best informed dealers are apprehensive that the market will break down within the next week or two, as it usually does just about the time clipped sheep are being rushed in, and if the same policy is persisted in this spring, the same result is almost certain.

HOGS.

The hog market was very dull to-day, and notwithstanding the arrivals have not been much, if any, larger than usual, the demand has fallen off and prices are weak and lower. Yorkers may be quoted at from 5¾ to 5⅝, and Philadelphia hogs at 6@6⅛—this is the lowest point the latter grade has touched for several months. The warm weather together with the fact that some of our shippers have been buying in Chicago has curtailed the demand here, and holders, it seems, preferred meeting the market to taking the risk of shipping any further east, and judging from present appearances, they acted wisely.

PITTSBURGH PETROLEUM MARKET.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, WEDNESDAY, April 8, 1874.

Trade continues moderately active, with but little change in rates, as compared with yesterday, and the market in a general way, presents but little that is really important. Crude was reported quiet to-day, but prices are still sustained, ranging from $1.87½ to $1.95 per brl. at Parker, according to pipe line; the market has gained strength within the past few days, the best evidence of which is that parties are now buying who were refusing to buy a week ago, in expectation of a decline. Refined is also quiet and unchanged, although in sympathy with the raw material, the market is firm; we continue to quote on cars here at 12¾ for April and 13 for May; and, delivered in Philadelphia, 15¾ for April, and 16 for May—the inquiry is mainly for the months named.

Oil barrels quotable at $1.65@1.70, cash and time, and the market is firmer with light offerings.

SEC. 3. It shall be the duty of all Livery Stable keepers in said city to make a return to the City Treasurer, within twenty days after the passage of this Ordinance and annually thereafter on or before the 1st day of May of each and every year, of the number of vehicles of every description owned and used by them in their business and the kind thereof, and the same return shall be made under oath.

SEC. 4. All owners of Carts, Drays, Wagons and other Vehicles who shall neglect or refuse to procure a license as aforesaid, shall be subject to a penalty of not less than 10 per cent. for every thirty days the same remains unpaid after the 1st day of May of each year. All Livery Stable keepers failing to make the return required in the 3d section of this Ordinance shall, in addition to the foregoing, be subject to a penalty of not exceeding fifty dollars, all of which penalty shall be recovered before the Mayor or one of the Aldermen of said city, by summary conviction, and it shall be the duty of the Chief of Police to seek out all persons who have failed to comply with any of the provisions of this ordinance and report the same to the City Treasurer, for which service he shall receive the sum of fifty cents in each case, to be taxed and collected as a part of the costs, upon conviction as aforesaid.

The penalties for non-compliance with the ordinance will be strictly enforced after the above date.

D. MACPHERSON, City Treasurer.

RIVER NEWS.

State of the Rivers, Movements of Steamboats, &c.

The river was rising last evening, with 6 feet 10 inches in the channel. It commenced to rain in the afternoon, and the indications at this writing are for its continuance; business, however, notwithstanding the rain, was fairly active.

The Mallie Ragon from Wheeling, arrived and departed.

The Juniata, it was expected, would get off some time in the night, if not, she would get off at daylight this morning. She had a good trip, both of passengers and freight. Pilots, Hamilton and Hall.

The Mollie Ebert did not get off last evening, as expected, being unable to get all her freight aboard, but she will positively depart to-day at 3 P. M. She has a large number of passengers, and will have about all the freight she can take on the water.

The R. W. Skillinger was due from Cincinnati last night, and will doubtless be found in port this morning. As will be seen by card, she is announced for a return trip forthwith, and will take her departure to-morrow evening.

The Messenger is filling up steadily for Nashville.

The Exchange, Captain Sam. Shuman, is announced for Cincinnati and intermediate points forthwith.

The Fearless barges are filling up steadily for St. Louis, and will soon be ready for departure. They will be taken out by the Hornet, as the Fearless will not be here in time.

—The Cairo correspondent of the Cincinnati Commercial says: A mysterious fever has broken out, which took its victims off in from half an hour to an hour's time with horrible certainty, and he did not want any in his. The doctors called it dangua pneumonia, but seemed powerless to cure it. The winter has been very mild in Texas. Frost was not felt. The heavy rains have washed bare hundreds of bodies of the yellow fever victims of last summer, and it is only too probable that this disease is a more malignant form of epidemic springing out of the poison arising from the remains of the last. Parties are busy reinterring the bodies washed out by the rains, but they are numerous, and are all near enough the surface to taint the atmosphere, and a terrible pestilence must almost certainly be the result.

—Yesterday's Cincinnati Gazette contains the following among other items: The Liberty No. 4 passed up last evening with three barges of ore. — Captain Sam Parker left for Louisville on the United States last evening to pilot the Lioness to Pittsburgh.—Dick Burns, one of the clerks on the Jas D Parker, drew $375 in the Louisville Lottery. — Mr. Moses Gibbs, mate of the Natchez, is the lucky holder of a prize of $3-750 in the Kentucky State Lottery, and Mr W M Brown, chief clerk of the City of Quincy, is also a winner in the same drawing of $18,000.—The Esperanza, after adding 100 tons freight and a number of passengers here, proceeded to St Louis with 500 tons freight and nearly 100 passengers.

—The Louisville Courier of Tuesday says: The Fred Wilson No. 2 arrived from New Orleans yesterday. She took into New Orleans a tow of 324,000 bushels of coal, being the largest fleet that a boat of her caliber ever took South. She made the round trip in 20 days, and lost a good deal of time by fog. She leaves to-day with 14 loaded boats and 2 barges. Ben and George Cox are her pilots, which accounts for the success of the Fred.

—A St. Louis telegram says: Capt A. B. Shaw, who arrived from Bismarck to day, says the ice is two and a half feet thick in the Missouri at that point and two feet thick at St. Paul. Com. Kountz came with him to St. Paul, and went from there East.

—A dispatch from Yankton Agency reports the river very low and getting lower every day, and from Randall the word was: "River very low and still falling."—All the Fort Benton freight purchased at the East will be shipped to Bismarck via Northern Pacific.

—During the debate on the Louisville & Portland Canal bill, Mr. Banning of Ohio, said that Ohio, Kentucky, Indiana and Illinois paid nearly half the internal revenue collected in the country or forty two million dollars, and therefore their wishes ought to be regarded.

—The Keokuk Northern Line offers for sale 20 model barges and the sidewheel steamers Milwaukee, Muscatine, Phil Sheridan, Bayard, Lucy Bertram and City of St. Paul, also the stern wheelers Victory, Damsel, Addie Johnson, Bill Henderson, Jennie Baldwin and G H Wilson.

—The Lake City Sentinel says that teams continue to travel on the ice on Lake Pepin. For several years past the 25th of March has been the latest time the lake has been passable for teams.

—Captain Percy, of the steamer Penn Wright, is extending the smoke stack of that steamer, to insure a better draft, while down at St. Louis chimneys are being shortened to insure a safe passage under the bridge.

—The United States dredge boats Oswego and Ohio, now lying at Marietta, will go into active work next week between Marietta and Pittsburgh.

—At St. Paul on Wednesday evening, Captain J. H. Reaney was married to Miss Maggie A. Scott. Rev. J. W. McGregor performing the ceremony.

—Com. S. B. Coulson is in Yankton. Capt. Wm. Coulson and clerk R. C. Mason, of the E. H. Durfee, are in Sioux City.

—The Mississippi is open from the foot of Lake Pepin to Fountain City.

The Steam Capstan Patent—A Reminiscence of Blockade Running.

From the St. Louis Republican, of Monday, we learn that Captain John S. McMillan with his attorney, Mr. William Bakewell, are in that city, for the purpose of prosecuting infringers of his steam capstan patent. Mr. John Shaffer, his partner, having filed bills against several parties. They have sued out some twenty or more injunctions against various parties in other districts. The validity of the patent has been decided in the Circuit Court of the United States, sitting in Pittsburgh before Judge McKennan of the Western district of Pennsylvania. The patent is claimed to do away with man power. It was invented and put into practical use on the 9th of June, 1855, but letters patent were not granted until the 16th of April, 1867. All those who appropriated the invention when the inventor was powerless to help himself, are held by the decision referred to as accountable, and in consequence a royalty has been collected of from $150 to $300 upon over 200 boats.

Captain McMillan is known to many as the "old blockade runner," having gained that soubriquet from the following circumstance in the early history of the rebellion. In January, 1861, he was commander of the steamer Silver Wave, and the first shots fired in the war were fired to capture the Silver Wave in January of that year, the firing on Sumter being about three months subsequent, on the 15th of April, 1861. The Silver Wave was supposed to have on board a cargo of United States ordinance for New Orleans. It was believed that under the orders of Floyd, Secretary of War, they were shipped for New Orleans. But the guns were not permitted to leave Pittsburgh, and under the protest of 10,000 excited citizens, they were unshipped and taken back to the arsenal. The Silver Wave went on with a cargo of merchandise for New Orleans. Mississippi had seceded, but as Louisiana had not yet taken that step, the Vicksburgers determined to retain the cannon in the, then, confederacy. Every boat ahead of the Silver Wave was brought to by a shot and examined for the supposed guns. The Silver Wave was boarded. One of the officials saw a boiler on deck and swore it was a double-barrelled gun. A dispatch, however, was received, stating that the guns had not left Pittsburgh, and the commotion about them ceased. The Silver Wave was allowed to proceed to New Orleans with its cargo, and to return north, not, however, without some detention at several points. On the 16th of April, 1863, Capt. McMillan, with the Silver Wave, ran the confederate batteries at Vicksburg, and got through in safety, while the Forest Queen, in trying to perform the same feat, had her steam pipe shot away, but was turned out of range by a gunboat, while the Henry Clay, in trying to make the riffle, was burned and sunk. The Forest Queen was burned the same fall at the levee in St. Louis.

LITTLE BOY KILLED.

Accident at Roup's Station on the P. R. R.

An accident occurred yesterday afternoon at Roup's Station, on the Pennsylvania Railroad, that resulted in the death of a little boy, about nine years of age, named John Bowers. He was returning home about three o'clock from the Twentieth ward school house, and attempted to jump on a train of cars that was passing, but was thrown beneath the trucks, and cut completely in two. His parents reside on Shakespeare street in East Liberty.

DIVORCE SUITS.

A Libellant With Two Husbands—She Wants to Get Rid of One—Alleged Malicious Desertion.

A divorce suit of a somewhat singular character was instituted yesterday in the Court of Common Pleas. The name of the libellant is Mary Ann Young. In 1859 she was married at Greensburg, by Rev. Steek, to Thomas Donahue, and lived with him until 1870, when her husband went west to the State of Missouri. About six months subsequent information reached her that he had died there, and learning nothing to the contrary, she earned her living as best she could by washing, &c., until August, 1872, when she married William Young. She has lived with him ever since, but now desires to have the nuptial ties severed, as information has lately reached her that the first husband is living in Illinois. This, she avers, can be fully established to the satisfaction of the Court, and prays that the second contract be declared null and void.

Another suit for a divorce was also entered by Annie C. Means, against Wm. C. Means, for wilfull and malicious desertion since September, 1871. In both cases the Court granted subpœnas returnable the first Monday in June.

REFUSAL OF WARRANTS.

The Mayor and Controller Refuse to Sign Warrants in Favor of Wm. Smith, for Pipe Furnished.

At the meeting of the Water Committee on Tuesday night, it was decided to pay Wm. Smith $245,000 on the pipe contract. Application was made yesterday to the Controller and Mayor for a warrant for the amount, but the former refused to issue it until he could get an opinion from the City Solicitor, and the latter absolutely refused to sign any warrant for such a purpose, unless compelled to do so by Court. These complications grow out of the opinion of George P. Hamilton, that the Water Commission was an illegally constituted body, and that as a consequence all contracts made by it are null and void. The bill in equity filed by Mr. McCarthy, to restrain the payment of this money, has also added to the difficulty. Inasmuch as City Solicitor Bigelow has already expressed an opinion coinciding with that of Mr. Hamilton, it is probable that his advice to the Controller will be to refuse the warrant applied for. It now looks as though recourse will have to be made to the Courts for a mandamus to compel the Mayor and Controller to sign the warrants, and that would bring the whole matter up doubtless for final settlement. There is no doubt but that Mr. Smith ought to have and will eventually get the money coming to him, and these technical legal objections that are being thrown in his pathway at every step are only calculated to embarrass him financially. It is also said that warrants will be refused for either Hartupee or Howard, the contractors for the engines and reservoirs, and thus will be tied up by legal complications over $300,000.

In conversation with a leading member of the bar yesterday, he stated to our reporter that the Mayor and Controller had no authority to refuse their signatures to the warrants, and in doing so rendered themselves liable for damages to Mr. Smith; also, that they are in nowise responsible for any results that may ensue, as the Water Committee will have to shoulder all the consequences, provided there will be any to shoulder, which is not at all likely.

FIRE DEPARTMENT MATTERS.

Session of the Commission Last Night—Applicants for Positions—Report of Chief Engineer—Matters for Investigation.

A regular meeting of the Fire Commission was held last night in Municipal Hall. The members present were Messrs. McIlroy, Larimer, Jones, Pitcairn, and President Wilson.

The following applicants for positions on the sub list of the Department appeared before the Board: B. McKenna, J. S. Hays, Michael Ward, E. J. Dougherty, J. J. Dougherty, Wm. Fitzgibbons, George Lutshaw, Wm. Bonfield, Chas. Franke, Alex. Semple, Chas. Kirkpatrick, Frank Moore, Thomas Kirk, P. O'Connor, Thomas Fish, D. W. Lewis, Henry Dietz, John Sheets, Edward Welsh and Wm. Miller. All the men named above were approved, and some others rejected.

With three or four exceptions, all the above were fine looking men, coming from nearly every trade, locomotive engineers, machinists, tool grinders, moulders, glass blowers, laborers, rollmill hands, old volunteer firemen, &c. The questions asked them by the members of the Board were various; for instance:

Mr. Pitcairn—Do you ever get on a "tear"

Applicant—Yes, sir, once in a while, but (hesitatingly) if it ain't necessary, I need'nt.

Other questions such as "are you a temperance man," "have you a family," "how old are you," &c., were propounded and variously answered. To one accustomed to paying any attention to such subjects, the large number of men having good trades applying for admission to the Fire Department, would seem to indicate that among such classes the effect of the late panic is still felt and that the trades are not so [illegible] as they might be, else the representatives would not be compelled to ask work in other branches.

Chief Engineer White submitted his report of the operations of the Department for the month of March, and it was approved. The number of fires and alarms during that time was thirteen, with an aggregate loss of $13,100. Resignations, discharges from, and appointments on the force were reported and confirmed. The report of the Secretary, Frank P. Case, showed $142,000 on hand the first of April.

An application was made to have the cellar of a colored church on Twenty-third street, South Side, pumped free of water, and the Chief was instructed to do the work, provided he can get half pay in advance. Mr. Pitcairn reported that he had got permission to put an alarm bell on the Presbyterian church in East Liberty. A committee of three, consisting of Messrs. Jones, Larimer and Superintendent Fulwood, were appointed to examine the fire alarm boxes and telegraph wire on the South Side and make report at next meeting. A committee was also appointed to examine into the affairs and management of the Department store house on Liberty street.

After agreeing that the Thirtieth ward engine house should be sold, the Commission adjourned.

"OLD MONOPOLY'S" DODGE.

A Sudden Reduction in the Price of Gas—A New Movement in the War—Coming to Close Quarters—The Situation Cheerful for the People.

The war between the rival gas companies is getting decidedly warm for the belligerents, and especially interesting to the people. The latest movement was that made by the old Monopoly yesterday, when, to the general surprise of the community, it drew on its last resource, and gave notice of a large reduction in the price of the illuminating fluid. This reduction brings the price down from $1.65 to $1.00 per thousand; but the advantage is only to be shared in by the residents of the city whose headquarters are west of Thirty-third street. This takes in the city proper, but throws out the greater part of the semi-rural suburbs. The reason given for this discrimination is that the expenses are greater to put down the pipes in the outer districts, and that the profits are less because there is not so much gas consumed.

The interesting question arises, whether this discrimination can be legally maintained. If gas can be manufactured so as to furnish it for one dollar in one part of the city it will be pretty hard to find a reason for adding on sixty-five cents when furnished in another section. The explanation given by the company hardly comes up to the requisite thickness. Such a question, however, does not seem to have greatly troubled the Monopoly, and it is making every effort to bring the reduction to bear favorably upon its interests. Especial attention has been given to those residing along streets where the pipes of the Consolidated Company have been laid, and the patrons of the latter have been applied to, but thus far with but little success. The "dodge" is rather transparent, and the patrons of the "Consolidated," so far as called upon, refused to make any change. They pay now $1.40 per 1,000, but the general belief is that the old company only reduces the price temporarily in the hope of defeating the "Consolidated," and then the old grinding tariff will be resumed.

It's a little singular that after claiming such high rates heretofore, the Company can suddenly find it profitable to drop nearly one-half and yet continue business. Somebody must have been reaping even a richer harvest than was generally supposed—though public opinion put the figures at a pretty fair rate.

This new movement contains also some profitable food for reflection for the people of Allegheny. If gas can be furnished in Pittsburgh for $1.00, it would be in order for the monopoly over there to revise its rates a little. Perhaps it would be too much to ask the corporation on the North Side to reduce from $200 to $100, but it might strike the difference. It would be a proper thing for Councils to take the matter into consideration, and if the old company cannot be brought to reason, any other way—a little encouragement to the consolidated company would likely bring about the desired result. It has done much for Pittsburgh within the past two years, and Allegheny ought to share in the benefits of competition, if her Councilmen to take the matter in hand.

In the mean time the fight is interesting to the people who take advantage of the situation and are cheerful.

FORWARD MOVEMENT.

The Women Inaugurate the Crusade in Pittsburgh.

A Disgraceful Scene on Ross Street.

The Ladies Generally Courteously Received.

The Saloon Keepers Make no Promises.

Incidents of the Day—Monongahela House—Wenzell's—The Movement in Allegheny City—A General Marshalling of the Forces.

As had been anticipated, the ladies of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union met yesterday morning in the rooms of the Temperance Alliance, corner of Penn avenue and Sixth street, for the purpose of devising some decided plan and to make a forward movement upon the enemy.

The matter of the projected crusade had been kept pretty quiet, but the reporters had been into the secret and it was generally known that some mode of interesting action had been decided upon.

At nearly ten o'clock, Mrs. Collins, the President, called the meeting to order. The lady stated that probably all present knew the object of their assemblage. The question of allowing the reporters to remain was then discussed, and it was decided, that as they would go to the saloons with the ladies, they should be allowed to remain in the meeting.

WORDS OF CHEER.

Mrs. Robinson spoke some eloquent words of encouragement to the ladies in regard to the great work before them, and bade them to be of cheerful heart. She could not see why they should be despondent in the work before them, they had already wrought a wonderful change, and they were capable of removing every obstacle.

Mrs. Collins opened the meeting by reading a portion of the Scripture, followed by Mrs. Youngson in an earnest appeal to God.

Mrs. Collins offered prayer, after which a hymn was sung. Selections of Scripture to be read and hymns sung in the saloons were then made by the President.

THE TIME COME.

Mrs. Collins stated that she thought the time had come for the ladies to go to work. She would like to have about twenty ladies rise to their feet who were willing to go out and visit the saloons.

Mrs. Hill—I think twenty will not be enough. Why not ask as many as will go?

Mrs. Morris—I think as many should go as are willing to go.

Mrs. Collins—We do not want to crowd upon the saloons. I think part should remain and part should go. I have yielded to the pressure and allowed twenty to go. I am not willing that more should go at a time.

Twenty-three ladies rose to their feet.

A BIT OF ADVICE.

Mrs. Collins—Before we start out I want to say to you that we must be very orderly indeed, on the street. We must have no conversation on the street, and neither look to the right nor the left, but walk as though we had some great work before us. We must have no talking or laughing, as though we were on a pleasure excursion.

Mrs. Robinson—I do not think talking or laughing has ever been done.

The President—It is not necessary for us to get into any arguments with these men, and when we are reviled we must not revile in return.

Prayer was next offered, and the ladies took their departure in a double file, Mrs. Collins and Mrs. Youngson going ahead.

Some twenty or thirty ladies remained in the Alliance rooms, where a strange lady spoke at some length in behalf of the temperance cause. She urged the women to put their trust in God.

THE LINE OF MARCH.

The ladies after leaving the rooms, quietly wended their way along Sixth to Market street, thence up Fifth avenue. About the rooms no crowd had gathered, and along Sixth street and Market the ladies were almost unnoticed, but on Fifth avenue, as soon almost as they trod upon it, the word went forth that "The crusaders were coming," and they were being followed by a crowd which kept constantly increasing. The ladies, however, kept on quietly in their march, but at the corner of Smithfield street and Fifth avenue the crowd had assumed to such proportions, that the ladies' squad was divided into two sections. At this time, too, the crowd had become somewhat noisy, but Mrs. Collins and Mrs. Youngson led the van bravely, looking neither to the right nor to the left. The crowd knew not whence the ladies were marching. The route was continued up Fifth avenue to Grant street, down Grant to Fourth avenue, and here it was that they first

ATTEMPTED TO BEARD THE LION IN HIS DEN.

In front of the "Scotch Hill" House, kept by John McFadden, the women came to a halt, corner of Ross and Fourth avenue. The doors of the bar room were thrown wide open, and Mr. and Mrs. McFadden came to the door apparently being surprised at the visit of the ladies. Mrs. McFadden expressed some fear, but when told who the ladies were, she was somewhat quieted, she having become under the impression that the house was on fire.

Mrs. Collins asked permission to pray in his saloon.

McFadden's reply was rather characteristic: "No, ma'am, I h'aint got but the one room and I won't be interrupted in my business. You can't pray here."

Mrs. Collins—Have you any objections to our holding a meeting outside?

Mr. McFadden—No, you are welcome to the outside; but I cannot have my business stopped.

Mrs. Collins—Will you leave your door open?

Mr. McFadden—Yes, and you are welcome to the pavement.

The ladies then repaired to the sidewalk.

A MOB.

But few outsiders heard the conversation between Mrs. Collins and the saloon keeper, but as soon as the ladies had gained the street, the large crowd, which had now degenerated into a disorderly mob, at once made a rush for the doors of the saloon, and the bar room was soon filled with as disorderly a crowd as could well be imagined. Loud calls were made for beer and whisky by the men. While this was going on the proprietor had thrown open his back door [illegible] ther disorderly mass of men made [illegible] the place from that direction. The [illegible] were m[illegible] the constant calls for liquor, and the s[illegible]ne of disgrace and shame to the city of P[illegible]gh. It did seem as though the entire off-scouring of the city had been let loose to create a bedlam of disorder and profanity.

UPON THE STREET

the ladies organized their meeting, and after singing a hymn, they knelt upon the pavement, where Mrs. Youngson made an appeal for strength and grace from the Divine Master. The prayer was both touching and impressive, and could not but have been felt by some of those around. Among those who knelt were Mrs. Collins, Mrs. Matchett, Black, Hill, Youngson, Van Horn, Robinson and Morris. The latter had only risen from a sick bed that morning, but bravely labored on. Mrs. Black attracted considerable attention, her gray hairs and benevolent countenance causing profound respect outside, even from the mob. Mrs. Collins, though a modest and retiring lady, bravely held her place in the lead. Mrs. Collins and Mrs. Hill both offered up touching prayers, and several hymns were sung.

While the ladies were at service outside, Mrs. A. Adams and Miss Anderson left the pavement and again repaired into the saloon, where beer and whisky in a limitless supply to the unruly rabble. As soon as the women entered they were greeted with hisses, groans, cheers, all intermingled with the jingling of glasses and constant calls for liquor. A gentleman connected with the press of the city kept the crowd back, while the ladies approached the bar and presented the pledge to the proprietor. He read that portion which says: "In the Fear of God." He said that his business was a lawful one, and God was not in the Constitution, and consequently, would not sign the pledge.

The crowd set up

A HOWL FOR DRINKS

and Mr. McFadden left the ladies to supply the demand. At this time one of the ladies attempted to pray, but the mob set up such a yell and kept uttering such oaths that the woman was compelled to stop. Whenever the ladies attempted to speak the crowd commenced to blaspheme and curse, and as the woman tried to speak or pray, the crowd would get the more disorderly and the louder in their horrible cursing. One of the mob, after one of the ladies had called for strength from the Lord, shouted "Lord give us some more whiskey," which was received with an immense cheer by the crowd. The ladies were finally compelled to desist.

A BRAVE WOMAN.

Miss Anderson again returned to the saloon to speak. She tried to get upon a beer keg, and then asked some one to assist her upon the counter. The crowd greeted her with remarks of the vilest character and hisses, groans and jeers, offering her whisky and beer. The lady was finally compelled to desist and leave the saloon.

On the street the crowd, though large, was not so boisterous, though as to order, it was anything but preserved. Mrs. Hill had gone to see Acting Mayor McMasters to get police protection. That official graciously detailed officers Dean and Welsh to preserve the peace and protect the ladies from insult.

A woman commenced to abuse Mrs. Robinson and told her she ought to be at home. The woman garnished her language with considerable emphasis and a little profanity. Mrs. Robinson finally asked an officer to get her name, when she left very suddenly. The boys were especially boisterous. They had climbed on tree boxes and in trees. Several beer wagons had stopped near the ladies, and the drivers jeered the women, but they kept on in their work.

RESUMING THE MARCH.

The crowd outside had swelled to thousands, but the ladies again took up their line of march, Mrs. Black and Collins taking the lead. Policemen now formed an escort and the ladies had ample protection from insult. The line of march was down Fourth avenue to Wood street, thence down to Second avenue, where the ladies came to a halt in front of Dillinger & Stevenson's wholesale liquor establishment. The liquor house of John Seiferth & Co., corner of Market street and Second avenue, closed its [illegible] ladies hove in sight, evidently not [illegible]

At Messrs. Dillinger & Steve[illegible] ment, Mr. Lemon, the shipp[illegible] ladies at the door. Mrs. Co[illegible] proprietors, but she was told that they were absent. She then asked permission to enter and pray, but the gentleman said he had not the authority, and besides, that there was no place to pray.

ADMITTED.

Mrs. Collins replied they could hold their meeting on the pavement, when Mr. Faller, the book-keeper, invited the ladies in, saying that there was no objection to the ladies coming in, if they desired. The ladies entered, when every accommodation possible was made for them. Between rows of barrels of liquor, the ladies knelt and prayed, and while they were conducting the service, Mr. Dillinger entered and went into the office. Mrs. Robinson followed him, and asked him to desist dealing in liquor. Mrs. Morris also went to him and asked him to sign the pledge. The gentleman politely, but firmly saying that the only way to stop the liquor traffic, was to prevent its manufacture. The pledges were presented to others, but no signatures were obtained, and the ladies withdrew, taking their course back to the Alliance rooms. On Wood street the ladies were followed by a crowd of immense size, and as they passed a liquor house, the crowd would taunt them and cheer.

REFUSED TO SIGN THE PLEDGE,

A large portion of the disorderly crowd held its sway in the middle of the street. On Sixth avenue, a number of women stood in the door of a saloon, and were somewhat surprised, when the ladies passed.

The rabble followed the ladies to the entrance of the building of the Alliance rooms, where, as the ladies entered, the roughs used the vilest language possible.

A LUNCH.

At the rooms a lunch had been prepared, which was partaken of by the ladies. They discussed the matters of the morning, and said that they had resolved upon standing all the insults and jeers offered; that they had expected them. The crowd was the worst they had ever seen, but that the saloon keepers had treated them better than was expected. They were not disheartened at the result, but would again continue the work.

THE AUTHORITIES WAITED ON.

At about two o'clock a committee of ladies visited the Mayor's office and requested a posse of police as they intended to continue the work during the remainder of the day. Chief of Police John Irwin detailed a squad to protect the ladies, and the corner men received orders to arrest any one who dared to insult the ladies while they were out. At about half-past two o'clock, after religious services at the Alliance rooms, the ladies again took up their line of march up Sixth street to Market, up Fifth avenue to Wood, down Wood street to Fourth avenue to Smithfield street, thence down to the

which was the first place visited in the afternoon. Here, as might have been expected, the ladies were shown every courtesy. The proprietor, Mr. Crossan, invited the ladies into the parlor, where they were welcome to hold a meeting for prayer. The large rotunda was well filled with a crowd of gentlemen. A large number of officers had been provided, and there was no danger here from insult from any one, the locality and surrounding making the difference. The services were held here, and were impressive. Mrs. Van Horn and other ladies prayed, and Mrs. Collins read a portion of the Scriptures, and hymns were sung. Mrs. Robinson plead with many to sign the pledge, and was quite successful here in her endeavors, as were other ladies. The meeting was quite protracted and of great interest. At one time it resolved into a sort of conversational gathering, but that was soon broken up by one of the ladies starting a hymn.

A POSSE OF POLICE

now went ahead of the procession and informed saloon proprietors that were to be visited, in order to have the ladies protected, and they also kept the crowds quiet and at a respectable distance. The next place it was resolved to visit, was the saloon of John W. Bailey, known as the "La Belle," on Smithfield street, immediately opposite the Monongahela House. To this place the ladies had been invited by the proprietor. He had his side entrance open and the dining room prepared for their reception. Reporters were furnished with stools at the oyster counter.

AFTER THE LADIES

had entered, the front door was thrown open and a crowd surged in, that could not be called of the choicest and best character. It was anything but quiet and orderly. However, it was not of an insulting character. The proprietor ordered the police to protect the ladies from any indignity and the crowd to keep at a respectful distance from the ladies. The crowd finally became so great that reporters were driven from their perches, and compelled to note the proceedings in another spot.

The services commenced by singing the hymn "O Lord our Guard," which was followed by Mrs. Dr. Starr who offered a prayer that was very touching. While the lady prayed all the ladies knelt upon the floor. The crowd at this time was immense, inside and on the streets and in the alley. The windows were blocked by a crowd of anxious lookers on who seemed to take a great interest in all that passed.

IN FRONT IN THE BAR-ROOM

the crowd had become very noisy, though neither obscene nor profane. "We'll wait till Jesus calls" was sung, in which Mr. Bailey joined. Mrs. Collins read a portion of Scripture, after which Mrs. Van Horn prayed, as did Mrs. Hill. While these ladies were praying the crowd was quite noisy, but when Mrs. Matchett sent up her petition, its inspiration and ferveney seemed to compel reverence and silence, for the crowd at once became hushed and silent. At the request of the proprietor another hymn was sung, in which he joined. The ladies thanked him kindly for his courteous treatment, and they WERE INVITED TO CALL AGAIN.

Having concluded their labors here, the ladies again took up their line of march up Smithfield street, a passage way having been cleared through the crowd by the police. The ladies passed up Smithfield street to Sixth avenue, and down Sixth avenue, and down Wood street to Wenzell's "Alden House" near Fifth avenue. Here the ladies were though the proprietor was out. The ladies were allowed to pray and sing. The men here acted most respectful, they evidently being of the better class. The peculiarity of this meeting was that the men joined in the hymn-singing.

The proceedings opened with the hymn, "We Praise Thee, O God." The ladies then knelt, while Mrs. Youngson offered up prayer. The men formed a semi-circle. While the lady was praying, a canary bird, hanging in a cage near a window, commenced to sing, and almost at every pathetic appeal, he sent forth his beautiful notes, making the event peculiarly impressive.

Mrs. Collins read a portion of the Scripture, after which "All hail the power of Jesus' Name" was sung by nearly all present. Mrs. Gormly and Mrs. Van Horn each offered up prayer, after which Dr. Hunter's "Battle Hymn of the Crusade" was sung.

TRACTS WERE PASSED

around by the ladies, as were the pledges. The bar-tender was asked to sign the pledge, but refused. More singing was done, and after thanking the gentlemen for their courteous treatment, they departed, taking their route for the

ALLIANCE ROOMS.

A large crowd followed them thither, but no insult was shown or offered. In the rooms, the ladies sat down to rest. Mrs. Van Horn commenced to talk to a crowd who had gathered within the room, and who, evidently, showed great interest. They gathered around her, and she was just getting "down to work," when the President, Mrs. Collins' gavel came down and the meeting was called to order. She then spoke encouragingly of the work done during the day, and called upon the ladies to continue it.

Mrs. Starr then offered up thanks to God and implored Him to help their cause.

After some farther preliminaries for the crusade to-day, the Doxology was sung and the meeting closed. The ladies will meet at nine o'clock in the Alliance rooms for action this morning.

The Allegheny City Crusade.

Shortly after ten o'clock yesterday morning, some fifty ladies started out from the Sandusky street, Allegheny, Baptist Church, where a prayer meeting had been held. The first place visited was the Manzanilla House, on the South Diamond. The ladies here, in the absence of the proprietor, Mr. Snyder, were met by Mr. Taylor, who treated the ladies very kindly, and who invited them to enter. The crowd that followed the ladies was very large. Services of an impressive character were held. The ladies passed tracts and the pledges around, and were rewarded with some success. The bar-keeper had a passage cleared for the ladies, and refused to serve customers during their visit.

Daniel Hall's and other saloons were visited during the day and altogether the ladies feel satisfied that they have thoroughly commenced the work.

South Side.

But one saloon was visited on the South Side yesterday morning, that of John Schlegel, Twentieth and Sarah streets. He offered to sell out for $6,000, one third cash, the balance in one, two and three years with interest. He won't be bought out.

A meeting was held by the ladies, when great regret was expressed at the action of the men, who took so little interest in the movement.

On Tuesday the ladies were refused admittance to a number of saloons on the South Side.

OBITUARY.

Mr. John W. Milligan.

On Tuesday evening Mr. John W. Milligan, formerly a member of Common Council, died rather suddenly at his residence of consumption, a disease with which he had been afflicted for over a year. Mr. Milligan was in his twenty-eighth year at the time of his death. He was well known in this city as a man of good attainments and generous impulses, and one who was kind to a fault, who had won around him many true and lasting friends. About eight months ago, Mr. Milligan went to St. Cloud, Minnesota, to regain the health he so much needed, and while away, he seemed to have gained some strength, but the dread disease had too strong a hold upon him, and to it, he finally had to succumb. Mr. Milligan was a member of Great Western lodge, 345, K. of P., and also a member of several other organizations. He was a consistent member of the Cumberland Presbyterian Church. The several organizations with which he was connected, will escort his remains to their final resting place.

A NEW PAVEMENT.

An Artificial Stone.

Of all the material used as pavements, at such enormous cost to the public, none have been found wholly satisfactory save the artificial stone. This has been tested in the severest manner, and stood the test—resisted the frosts of winter, the heat of summer, and the wear of constant use. It is clean, attractive and cheap, and some now in use in this city is as good as when put down three years ago. Not an instance of failure has occurred when properly placed by competent workmen. It is the best pavement, cellar flooring, malt house and brewery flooring, etc., made.

For any information, for satisfactory reference and for work in artificial stone, call at the office of the hardware store of Hermann Straub, No. 17 Federal street, Allegheny.

····There will be a temperance mass meeting held this evening in the Liberty street M. E. Church, Rev. Mr. R. T. Miller, pastor, at eight o'clock.

····Prof. S. P. Langley's lecture on "The Sun" will come off on 21st of April. The announcement of the lecture heretofore was an error—not however of the Professor.

····The Pittsburgh Baptist Sunday School Association will hold a meeting at Greensburg to-day. Morning, afternoon and evening sessions will be held, and an interesting occasion is anticipated.

····Two little boys named Tom and Martin Murray, aged respectively seven and ten years, were picked up last night by the police and taken to the Twelfth ward station house. It is supposed they ran away from home.

····A communication, giving the details of an entertainment held at Pleasant Valley on the evening of March 31st, would have been acceptable at the proper time, but we regret that it comes in rather too late for insertion now.

····At an election for vestrymen, held at the Church of the Good Shepherd, Hazlewood, the following gentlemen were elected: Hill Burgwin, H. Cox, Wm. C. Macrum, Wm. Cowan, Sr., George Barker, R. Lee France, John Smith.

····Dr. J. J. Murray will address a meeting of the "Band of Promise," in the Third Methodist Church, Fifth Avenue, this (Thursday) evening, on the subject of temperance, after which there will be an hour of social entertainment. A good time is expected.

····Willard Bryan, a young man who was convicted in 1872, at the Williamsport term of the U. S. District Court, of robbing the mails, and sentenced to two years imprisonment in the Western Penitentiary, has been pardoned by the President. He was released yesterday.

····Yesterday morning two little boys about five or six years of age were playing on the West Penn Railroad track, near Isabella furnace, when a train came along. One of them left the track, but the other was assisted by the cow catcher of the engine and badly bruised.

····Coroner McCallin yesterday held an inquest on the body of Thomas Lafferty, who was found drowed in Chartiers Creek, near Mansfield. Deceased disappeared about four weeks ago, from his home, and his body was found yesterday, much decomposed. A verdict of found drowned was rendered.

····An intoxicated individual while vibrating from house to gutter along Liberty street, yesterday afternoon, fell into the opening leading into the basement of the new building at the corner of Liberty and Wood street. He was taken out and the only hurt that could be found was a cut on the back of the head.

····The South Common Literary Society, of Allegheny, will give an entertainment this evening in the South Common M. E. Church for the benefit of the Sunday School connected with the church. The programme will include literary exercises, music, tableaux, etc. The society is one of the best we have ever had in our community, and their entertainment to-night will certainly give pleasure to all who attend.

····Yesterday in the Court of Common Pleas, suit was instituted by G. F. Smith & Co., to recover $277.80 from Dr. Arthurs, Gen. W. B. Barton, Col. Jno. H. Stewart and Dr. A. M. Barr, who composed the Barbecue Committee at the time of the jubilee over the completion of the wooden pavement on Penn avenue. The plaintiffs, it seems, furnished a bullock and half a dozen lambs for the barbecue, besides a number of other articles for which they have never yet been paid.

····Chief Engineer White received a letter a short time ago from the Chief of the London Fire Department, requesting that the last four annual reports of the Pittsburgh Department be sent to him, adding that it would be a great favor. In compliance with his request the reports were all obtained, elegantly bound together in morocco and gilt edged, and will be sent to him at once. On the back of the book is printed the gentleman's name with the initials "M. F. B."—Metropolitan Fire Brigade.

····The Consolidated Gas Company, having commenced several days ago laying their pipes along Wood street, intending to run up Fifth avenue and Diamond alley, thereby supplying the numerous billiard halls and places of amusements along these thoroughfares, has created quite a flurry with the managers of the old company. Their latest dodge is to reduce gas to one dollar per thousand feet. We don't think this will have any effect on those who have subscribed for the Consolidated Gas. What the people want is cheap gas, and we are glad they are about to have their rights.

····The editor of the Uniontown Standard, after spending some months in Florida endeavoring to infuse a little vigor into his debilitated old carcass, has returned to his native place, and this week's issue of his precious sheet is again teeming with vile slanders. It has been but recently tacked on to the tail end of the Democratic party of Fayette county, having renounced Republican principles in order to secure a few crumbs from the County Commissioner's office. Ever since the Standard has been under its present management, it has done everything else but advocate the interests of the Republican party, and the honest and true men of that county, recognizing its cloven foot and the "influences" which actuated its support of Democrats for office, will, we learn, at the proper time, spurn it entirely and support a Republican paper whose principles cannot be bought for a few paltry dollars. Inasmuch as the editor of the Standard has made a loud record among the people of Uniontown, it is about time that the standard bearer of the party in that section was changed. We have no inclination to reply at length to the diatribe of billingsgate that very naturally oozes from the Standard; having respect for age, no matter how imbecile it may be, we refrain from referring to all the facts, for if brief mention of one or two regarding it so wounds his sensitive soul, a recapitulation of all, in a solid chunk, as it were, would create an aroma that might be too much for even his well developed nasal protuberance.

AMUSEMENTS.

PITTSBURGH OPERA HOUSE.—"Shin Fane" was the attractive drama at the Opera House last night, and Mr. Riggs was entirely at home in the many characters he essayed. The piece is humorous and enlivening, and creates unbounded fun. "Shin Fane" is on the bill for this evening again. The Irish Detective is in preparation and will soon be produced.

ACADEMY OF MUSIC.—The emotional drama of "East Lynne" was performed last evening at the Academy of Music, by Miss Katie Putnam and her excellent company in a very satisfactory manner. To-night the company will appear in "Blade O'Grass" and "Happy Pair," Miss Putnam sustaining the principal characters. Seats may be secured during the day at the office.

ENGLISH OPERA.—Notwithstanding the excessive inclemency of the weather, decidedly the largest audience of the season, thus far, assembled at Library Hall last evening, to witness the rendition of the opera of "The Marriage of Figaro," by the Kellogg English Opera Company. The production of this opera necessarily provokes comparison of the with all the most celebrated singers who have appeared upon the lyric stage, and it must be a good representation which can win unqualified commendation; last evening's performance very nearly satisfied these requirements, proving the great event of the present season. The cast combined the very best elements of the company—Miss Kellogg, Madame Brignoli, Mrs. Seguin, Mr. Carlton, Mr. Peakes, Mr. Seguin, Mr. Clarke and Mr. Bartleman sustaining the principal roles most satisfactorily, leaving little room for captious criticism. To-night the opera of "Il Trovatore" will be produced, with the following cast:

Leonora ....Miss Kellogg.
Azucena ....Mrs. Zelda Seguin.
Inez ....Miss Starbird.
Manrico ....Joseph Maas.
Count De Luno ....Wm. Carlton.
Ferrando ....G. F. Hall
Ruiz ....J. Fenich.

LIBERTY HALL, EAST END.—A grand operatic, ballad and orchestra concert, by the Kellogg Opera Company, will be given at Liberty Hall, to-morrow evening, in which Madame Brignoli, Mrs. Seguin, Messrs. Maas, Hableman, Carlton, Seguin and Hall will appear. Our East End friends may anticipate a rare treat in the concert line on the occasion.

LIBRARY HALL FRIDAY NIGHT.—The concert of the Yale College Glee Club in aid of the Yale Boat Club, at Library Hall, to-morrow evening, will doubtless be numerously attended. It will consist of college songs, choruses, warbles, &c., just such as form an enjoyable entertainment. Reserved seats may be obtained at the music store of H. Kleber & Bro., Wood street.

ACADEMY NEXT WEEK.—Bullock's Royal Marionettes, a company which has for its motto "Novelty Curious, Fun Furious, Humanity Spurious," will open at the Academy of Music next Monday evening with a programme that never fails to arouse enthusiasm, and delight old and young alike.

MARTIN'S NEW VARIETY THEATRE.—The first performance in this new and comfortable place of amusement will be given on Monday evening next, the programme for which will be duly announced.

LIBRARY HALL.—The Vokes Family will commence a farewell engagement at Library Hall on Monday next. Their renowned specialty, "The Belles of the Kitchen," will form a prominent feature in the programme.

ORPHANS' FAIR.—The Orphans' Fair at City Hall, continues to draw large audiences both day and night. The evening promenade is especially attractive.

An Elegant Merchant Tailoring House.

PRESBYTERIAN.

Meeting of the Presbytery of Allegheny—The Condition of the Church—The Complaint from Glasgow—The "Movement" Endorsed.

Yesterday morning the Presbytery of Allegheny resumed its session in the North church, Lincoln avenue, Allegheny.

The "narrative" from the churches was read, showing a healthy increase in the membership and general harmony.

A call from the church at Freedom was placed in the hands of Rev. M. L. Wortman which he accepted and arrangements were made for his installation.

WHITE REDIVIVUS.

The "complaint" from the church at Glasgow, Beaver county, was next taken up. This is a renewal of the controversy over the excommunication of Rev. Wm. M. White. The complaint is signed by thirty-nine members of the Glasgow congregation, and sets forth "That by an arrangement made by a portion of the congregation at Glasgow and Rev. W. M. White, a suspended minister, said W. M. White has been acting as a regular supply of the Glasgow church since the third Sabbath of January last." The complainants say that "such proceedings on the part of the persons above mentioned, are contrary to the wishes of a large number of persons in the congregation—subversive of order and prejudicial to the interests of the church of Glasgow, and of the cause of religion in the community; and they ask for relief.

PRESBYTERIAL DENUNCIATION.

The paper was referred to a committee consisting of Rev. Dr. Allison and Elder J. C. McCombs, who reported recommending the following action:

1. That the Presbytery highly disapprove of this action of the Session, because permission has not been obtained from the Presbytery or its Committee, and because Mr. White is a suspended and excommunicated minister under the care of the Presbytery at Washington.

2. That the session is hereby enjoined not to employ Mr. White any longer at present, and to adopt all proper means to secure the restoration of peace and harmony in that church.

3. That the stated clerk is directed to notify Mr. White to discontinue preaching and the performance of other pastoral duties until authorized by this Presbytery.

4. That the stated clerk is directed to inform the Presbytery of Washington that W. M. White is preaching and performing other pastoral duties in one of the churches of this Presbytery, and that they take action to cause him to cease.

5. That Dr. Scott be appointed to preach at Glasgow church on Sabbath, April 19, and that he use his best endeavors to restore peace and harmony to the church.

This report was unanimously adopted.

THE "MOVEMENT."

The question of Temperance was next discussed, and the following resolution passed relative thereto.

After the examination of several young men as candidates for the ministry, the question of temperance presented itself as follows:

WHEREAS, There is a general revival of religion manifesting itself especially in the cause of temperance sweeping over our land, in which Christian women are the chosen instruments; therefore,

Resolved, That we hereby express gratitude to God for the great good already accomplished, not only in the creation of a strong public sentiment against the traffic and use of intoxicating drinks as a beverage, and in the direct suppression of the evil of intemperance, but also in the development of the great moral power hitherto, to a great degree latent in the women of the church.

Resolved, That we therefore heartily endorse the movement and pledge to the women engaged in the work our warmest sympathy, and earnest prayers and hearty co-operation.

MINOR NOTES.

Dr. Speer, Secretary of the Educational Board, reported unprecedented prosperity.

A call from the church at Millvale was placed in the hands of Rev. J. M. Shields, of Bridgewater, which he will accept.

On motion of Dr. Allison, Dr. McAboy was granted leave to labor outside the bounds of the Presbytery.

Dr. A. Williams and Rev. J. M. Shields, ministers, and O. L. Miller M. D., and H. P. Swartz, Elders, were chosen delegates to represent the Presbytery at the meeting of the General Assembly to be held in St. Louis.

Messrs. Menaul and Stewart, theological students, were licensed to preach.

Presbytery adjourned to meet the Wood's Run Church on the second Tuesday of June.

Great Auction Sale

of fine Livery Stock, at Rody Patterson, Jr.'s Livery Stables, No. 117 Fourth avenue, Pittsburgh, Pa., on Thursday, April 9th, 1874, and to continue until the entire stock is disposed of. Sales to commence at 10 o'clock, A. M., each day.

This stock comprises the whole equipment of one of the largest Livery Establishments in Western Pennsylvania, consisting of 12 first-class coaches, 1 hearse, 3 barouches, 25 top and no top buggies, 2 wagons, 1 buck wagon, 12 single and double sleighs, 25 sets double harness, 25 sets single harness, 60 horses, together with a large assortment of robes, blankets, bells, &c., &c.; in fact, the whole paraphernalia of a first-class Livery and Undertaker's establishment. This stock will be sold without reserve, as the proprietor wishes to engage in other business requiring his whole personal attention. A rare chance is offered to livery men, undertakers and others desiring one or more horses and vehicles for public or family use, as the entire stock will be sold to the highest bidder. Also will be sold, at the same time and place, gray gelding "Hot Punch," with record of 2:42; brown mare "Lulu," with no record, can beat 2:40, (formerly owned by the late John D. Robinson.) No postponement on account of weather.

POVERTY OF THE BLOOD.

If the blood be thin and watery the whole system impoverished. The flesh is flabby, the muscles lack hardness, the nerves are relaxed, the internal organs but imperfectly perform their functions, the brain is inert, and, in short, the entire body is only half alive. The stomach is mainly responsible for this wretched condition of the human machine. Stimulate and tone that organ with Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, and a marked change for the better will soon be apparent. The result of improving the digestion with this potent and genial tonic will be the conversion of the food into rich, pure blood, and as the blood is the raw material from which flesh, muscle, brain, bone, and every membrane, tissue and ligament of the body are manufactured, all these components of the material frame will be gradually regenerated and invigorated. This is sound doctrine, and it is sustained by the logic of facts.

Be it ordained and enacted by the City of Pittsburgh, in Select and Common Councils assembled, and it is hereby ordained and enacted by the authority of the same, That the grade of Soho street, Wadsworth street and Emmett street, be and is established as follows: Beginning at the south curb of Center avenue at an elevation of 238.3 feet; thence rising 3.2 feet per 100 382.8 feet; thence falling 5.0 feet per 100 for 941.56 feet; thence rising 2.005 feet per 100 311.58 to center of Wadsworth street; thence falling 3.43 feet per 100 520.55 feet to south curb of Wyandotte street; thence falling 10.0 feet per 100 921.74 to north curb of Fifth avenue.

E. S. MORROW, Clerk.

McKain's Hat Manufactory Removed.

We are pleased to announce to our readers that Mr. J. McKain, the genial and popular hatter, having removed from No. 4 Fifth avenue, has snugly established himself in rooms more desirable and commodious, at No. 180 Wood street, near Liberty, where he is supplied with every possible advantage for carrying on his work, and where his old-time friends will find him fully equipped for the execution of their orders, with his usual ability, neatness and dispatch. Those needing his service in the manufacture, furnishing, or change of style in their head gear can be content to rely on his skill and good taste.

The "Franklin," Allegheny, pays interst on time deposits.

LET THE PEOPLE SPEAK.

MANHATTAN, Kan., April 8, 1873.
R. V. PIERCE, Buffalo, N. Y.:
Dear Sir—Your Favorite Prescription has done my wife a world of good. She has taken nearly two bottles and has felt better the past two years than at any time in the past two years. No more periodical pains; none of that aching back or dragging sensation in her stomach she has been accustomed to for several years. I have so much confidence in it that I would be perfectly willing to warrant to certain customers of ours who would be glad to get hold of relief at any expense I have tried many Patent Medicines, but never had any occasion to extol one before. Very truly yours,
GEO. W. WHITING.
Mrs. E. R. DALY, Metropolis, Ill., writes, Jan. 9th, 1872:
"Dr. R. V. Pierce—My sister is using the Favorite Prescription with great benefit."
MARY ANN FRISBIE, Lehman, Pa., writes, May 29, 1872:
"Dr. R. V. Pierce—What I have taken of your medicine has been of more benefit to me than all others and hundreds of doctors' bills."
